

WARSAW CAPTURED

POLISH CAPITAL GIVES IN TO VICTORIOUS GERMANS

FACTS ABOUT POLISH CAPITAL

Warsaw is the capital and commercial and industrial center of Poland. It is located on a cliffy terrace above the Vistula river. Twenty detached forts have been defending it since the German invasion.

Warsaw's population is more than 800,000. Of this number 50,000 are skilled artisans. Its chief industries are machinery, weaving and printing.

Its chief buildings are Palace Square, University of Warsaw, Church of the Holy Cross, Cathedral of St. Johns and Saxon Palace, the seat of government.

The Alexander bridge spanning the Vistula river is one of the famous sights of Warsaw. Strong fortifications guard it at either side of the river.

Warsaw has been a capital city since medieval days. Although no longer of political importance it was a gay and active metropolis unblighted by the present war.

It has been the scene of many famous battles. In 1656 the Swedes captured the city. The Prussians made an unsuccessful attack in 1794. The same year it capitulated to the Russians.

After the historic Polish uprising of 1830, which lasted one year Warsaw again surrendered to Russia, and has since been under Russian rule.

One third of Warsaw's population is Jewish. Warsaw is 387 miles from Berlin.

The capital is also noted for its pretty street system.

Berlin, August 5. (By Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—Warsaw, ancient capital of Russian Poland fell before the victorious Germans this morning, according to official announcements coming from the German army headquarters.

The old city, one of the most ancient capitals in the world, rich in traditions and resources, about which more stories and romances have been written than any other city in the world, put up a wonderful defense, holding out for several weeks, but it was forced to surrender early today after the attacks made yesterday afternoon and last night by the Bavarian troops under the command of Prince Leopold.

These determined fighters under the leadership of their prince broke through the forts of the outer and inner lines of the city's defenses within several hours after their bombardment commenced, and this morning made their entry into the city.

The German report continues:

"The German armies under General von Scholz and General von Gallwitz advanced in the direction of the road between Lomza, Ostrov and Viskov and fought a number of engagements. The brave and desperate resistance of the Russians on both sides of the road between Ostrov and Rosan was without success.

"Twenty-two Russian officers and 4840 soldiers were taken prisoners. The Germans also captured 17 machine guns.

"German cavalry yesterday and the day before defeated in Courland detachments of Russian cavalry at points near Genaise, Evershi and Oniskshy. A total of 2,225 Russian prisoners was taken.

"The situation near and to the north of Ivangorod remains unchanged.

"The campaign is being continued between the upper Vistula river and the river Bug. German cavalrymen have entered Wladimir-Wolnyk, on the Bug river.

"In the Vosges there has been a new engagement near the Lingekopp.

GREATEST VICTORY OF WAR

The fall of Warsaw marks the culmination of the greatest sustained offensive movement of the European war. Thrice before Teutonic armies have knocked at its gates only to be denied by the strength of its defenses and the resistance of the forces holding it. Apparently impregnable in the face of direct attack it was compelled to capitulate before the sweep of a vast movement which threatened to encircle the capital and with it the Russian armies engaged in the campaign of which it was the storm center. From the north, northwest, west and south and southeast the Austro-German forces have been pressing upon the Polish capital in their combined drive to force the Russians out of Poland and if possible to break their offensive power for an indefinite period by administering a decisive defeat all along the line. The movement may be said to have held its inception in May when the great Teutonic march through Galicia began. To get at the Russian armies in Poland from the Southeast, it first was necessary to clear Galicia, or the greater part of it, of the troops of that nation.

DRIVE RUSSIANS THROUGH GALICIA

How successfully this was accomplished is familiar history. Field Marshal Von Mackensen's campaign in its first stages culminated when late in June Lemberg was retaken and the Russians were driven over the Galician border. Then early in July the Teutonic forces coming up from the South halted while preparations were made for the next stage of the campaign. Signs of the form this was to take were soon apparent. Great armies had been assembled to the north and these early in July began pressing down upon the Russians from that direction.

A vigorous offensive was opened in the Baltic provinces, the Teutonic troops attacked from point to point along the east Prussian border and with Field Marshal Von Hindenburg directing the general operations along this section of the fighting front a determined drive began in the Przemysl region. Simultaneously the Teutonic armies in the South showed reawakening activities. Field Marshal Von Mackensen resumed his advance, his German forces working with the Austrians

Here's One Of Warsaw's Churches Kaiser
Wilhelm Gave Orders To Men To Spare

The accompanying photograph shows a portion of one of the principal streets of Warsaw, the Polish capital, captured by German forces today.

On the right is also shown the Church of St. Anne, an edifice rich in traditions. It is one of the most beautiful of Warsaw's many beautiful buildings; and it is reported that Kaiser Wilhelm, when the fall of Warsaw was foreseen gave orders that the churches of the city should be spared, as should all other buildings if possible.

The church of St. Anne is in the central portion of the fallen capital and has been for a number of years a favorite haunt of American tourists.

U. S. NOTE IS READY FOR AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

Washington, August 5.—The American reply to Austria-Hungary's recent diplomatic note, suggesting an embargo on war exports to the Allies on the ground that the traffic has grown to proportions which violate American neutrality, has practically been finished by the state department and will be dispatched to Vienna within the next few days. The note reiterates the position of the United States, as it was expressed on a previous occasion to Count Von Borostoff, the German ambassador, that "the placing of an embargo on the trade in arms at this time would be a direct violation of the neutrality of the United States."

Austria's contention that "a neutral government is not permitted to allow unhindered trade in contraband of war if this trade assumes such a character or proportions that the neutrality of the country is thereby impaired," is declared in the American reply to be impractical. The United States contends that a limit beyond what the amount of war exports to a belligerent endangers the neutrality of a non-belligerent.

PREPARES PROGRAM FOR STATE GRANGE

Columbus, August 5.—J. J. Tabor, master of the state grange, has prepared an elaborate program for the reunion of the state grange, to be held in Grange hall on the state fair grounds on September 1 and 2.

The reunion will this year cover two days, instead of one, as before, and the speakers will be of national prominence. Oliver B. Wilson, the national grand master, has accepted an invitation to attend, as has also John A. McSparron, master of Pennsylvania state grange and C. M. Freeman, national secretary of the grange.

WILL DECORATE
MRS. WILSON'S GRAVE

Cornish, N. H., August 5.—President Wilson was up before six o'clock this morning working in his study. He planned to go to Woodstock, Vermont, for an early morning game of golf but rain prevented. Immediately after breakfast he went to his study and began reading his correspondence.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will have been dead a year tomorrow and special flowers will be placed on her grave in Myrtle Hill cemetery at Rome, Ga. The president has been unable to go to Rome since Mrs. Wilson's death, but her grave has been carefully looked after.

RAILWAY OFFICIAL
JAILED FOR WRECK

Buffalo, August 5.—It became known here today that Edward J. Dickson, vice president of the International Railway Company, was arrested yesterday at Saint Catharines, Ontario, in connection with the wreck on July 7 of an international trolley car on Queenstown Heights, which resulted in the death of fifteen persons.

The warrant for Mr. Dickson's arrest was sworn out by a special representative of the attorney general of Ontario and charges criminal negligence. He was released on $10,000 bail.

KAISER DELIVERS
BATON TO ARCHDUKE

Berlin, August 5.—(By Wireless to Sayville)—Emperor William personally delivered a Prussian field marshal's baton to Archduke Frederick of Austria, the commander in chief of the Austro-Hungarian forces in the east. The presentation took place at a little Galician town serving as the Austrian headquarters which was richly decorated with flags. The inhabitants of the place, in spite of a pouring rain cordially greeted the German emperor who briefly addressed the archduke.

THREE DIE IN FIRE

Delavan, Wis., August 5.—Three children were burned to death, eight cottages were destroyed and three dynamited to save others in a fire at Lake Delavan, a resort near here early today. The fire was brought under control in time to save a number of summer hotels.

The Elkhorn, Lake Geneva and Delevan fire departments hastened to the resort at the first alarm and their united efforts were needed to save the cottages and hotels that were in the path of the flames.

The bed rooms in which the children slept were cut off by flames and smoke. The financial loss was small.

IMPORTERS DISCUSS
BRITISH REPLIES

New York, August 5.—A general meeting of importers interested in obtaining goods from Germany and Austria has been called here, to be held some time next week, to consider the British notes regarding the detention of American ships and cargoes by the British government. The meeting was called by the chief Baltimore executive committee of importers to consider what further efforts should be undertaken to obtain relief from the situation in which American importers of German and Austrian merchandise are placed as a result of the British embargo.

MEXICAN OFFERS
APOLOGY TO U. S.

Douglas, Ariz., August 5.—Frederick Simprich, American consul for Sonora, has received from General Peltas Calles, Carranza chief now attacking Nogales, an apology for the fight Saturday of an aeroplane across the international border when a bomb and proclamations warning non-combatants were dropped in the Mexican city. The apology made known here today was in response to a message from Simprich, demanding an explanation.

PAN-AMERICANS
MEET LANSING TO DRAFT PEACE PLAN

Washington, August 5.—The six Pan-American diplomats invited by President Wilson to join the United States in formulating a plan for restoring peace to Mexico, arrived here today for their conference with Secretary Lansing. The first result is expected to be the ground work of an understanding for an all American project to re-establish constitutional government below the Rio Grande, preserve the sovereignty of Mexico and convince the world that the United States is acting as Mexico's nearest and most powerful friend and neighbor in saving the distracted country from itself.

Ambassadors Naon, Daoune, and Suarez, of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, respectively, were mediators at the Niagara conference last year and Ministers Calderon, Mendez and De Pena, of Bolivia, Guatemala and Uruguay, respectively, selected because they are the three ranking members of the Pan-American legation corps; went to the state department to meet Secretary Lansing at 2:30 o'clock.

The diplomats were only partly advised of President Wilson's plan. The purpose of the conference was to invite their help in working one out. Their governments have signified their willingness to co-operate in the work and after today's conference it is expected the other Pan-American countries, including Cuba, not represented in today's conference will be asked to join in the work. So far as is known, the president's plan proposes first, a cessation of warfare and establishment of provisional government by the factional leaders themselves; should they fail the American nations would assume the task. The Villa and Carranza leaders here began taking steps to get their

FROM DISASTER

Erie, Pa., August 5.—Twenty-four bodies have been recovered, eighteen of which have been identified, and a list of names of fifteen known missing persons is the correct toll of victims today of Tuesday night's flood. Coroner Hanley said this morning that he thought the death list would reach seventy-five, being swelled by the probable loss of a number of foreigners whose houses were swept away on the banks of the creek at Ninth street.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—Working in relays under a scorching sun, firemen and volunteers today continued their search in the masses of wreckage piled along Mill creek by Tuesday night's freshet for the bodies still believed to be in the debris. Some headway was made during the night and anxious crowds removed from temporary morgue to temporary morgue every time the report was spread that another body had been recovered. There still remain, however, great piles of ruins that have not been explored and friends of the many missing persons shudder when they think of what these unsightly heaps may hold.

One body was recovered during the night, that of a foreigner, although there were many reports of other finds to disappoint the weary watchers along the ravine.

VOLCANO

ENERGY

Washington, August 5.—The recent great eruptions of Lassen Peak, California, spent the energy of the old volcano. This is the conclusion of J. S. Diller, of the geological survey who has just completed a study of the peak in co-operation with officials of the forest service. In a report to the geological survey, Mr. Diller expresses the belief that while the mountain doubtless will continue to be an active volcanic entity it will not develop into a devastating fury after the manner of well known foreign volcanoes.

Th' best proof that England didn't get much when Henry James the ex-American "high brow" transferred his allegiance because we don't propose to mix into th' war is th' fact that when you mention his name most folks ask "Now who the dickens is Hen James?" As I haven't heard of Hen enlistin' in th' British army I spose he's one o' that valiant class o' warriors who expect th' other fellow to do the fightin'. Here's th' weather:

Pests I Have Met

No. 6--The Base Ball Bug

He usually sits way up in the grand stand, about as far from the umpire as possible, for he is a firm believer in Safety-First principles.

From his lofty perch he hurls dainty morsels of English and near English down to the umpire every time a close decision is made.

Sometimes he forgets which side he is rooting for and when the umpire gives a close decision to his home team he yells:

"Robber, thief, can't you see, or something similar to this."

It's born in him to be a kicker. Unless he is "halling someone on" he is very unhappy. If you could peep into his home life you would probably see his children crying when he roars and see a little wife hurrying around answering his every wish.

This pest usually slaps you on the back when a good play is made, and the chances are ten to one that he has never seen you before.

It's a certainty that he will never see you again if you have anything to do with it, for you usually move when you encounter this variety of pest.

This pest should be given a seat all by himself, where he would be able to see every play, and if possible where he would have to dodge every foul ball that was hit.

I SAY, WHATCHA KNOW ABOUT THAT PLAY STRANGER??

Twoirate Women Stage A Near Battle With Umbrellas During Police Court Session

An umbrella battle between two irate women was narrowly averted in police court Thursday morning. The lie had been passed between Mrs. Caroline Henry, aged mother of Tobe Henry, and Mrs. Riley, of Tenth street, a sister of Mrs. Ode Kountz, when both raised their "shower sticks" to strike each other. Bailiff Joe Stoddy rushed between them just in the nick of time. He no sooner returned to his seat when the women got to villifying each other again and once more the umbrellas were brought into play.

"If you were out of court I'd knock you down, even if you are 61 years old," said Mrs. Riley.

"Court or no court, I'll clean up with you right here," retorted the elderly woman and was with difficulty restrained from carrying out her threat.

The mayor summed up the whole trouble as a family, or neighborhood row, resulting from Tobe, who was formerly an intimate terms with Mrs. Riley, said the court, now trying to supplant a rival, Jake Seely, in the affections of the Kountz woman. The two sisters vigorously denied this. Mrs. Riley going so far as to say that she criticized the Almighty for permitting Seely to live, and that it was her nightly prayer that he "croak." As for Henry, she said that she once had the love for him that one should for a cousin, but since finding him out bespied the very ground he walked on.

Henry, who was arrested twice in one day for attacking Mrs. Kountz, was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Cincinnati workhouse, but this may be suspended if he goes to work and remains away from the Kountz home in the future. The charge of disorderly conduct brought by his mother against the Kountz woman was dismissed in order to encourage Daisie in her determination to reform.

Gilliland Speeches

N. B. Gilliland, Republican candidate for the nomination of mayor, will close his campaign with four open meetings in different parts of the city, beginning Thursday evening. Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, he will speak at the lower Market square Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, he will address a meeting in front of Flood & Blake's drug store in the East End, and a half-hour later he will speak in Earlytown.

He will close his campaign Saturday evening with an address at the corner of Fifth and Chillicothe streets. All are invited to these meetings.

FOUND GANG OF HOBOES BUT NOT ANY DISORDER

Police received a hurry call to Vera Junction Wednesday night, reports having it that six negroes were attacking three white men.

When officers reached the scene, they found fully twenty hoboos, whites and blacks, but no sign of disorder. One of them, a tall negro, resembling "High Yaller," was marshaled to the city by the officers, more out of fun than anything else, because of the earnest and exorable manner in which he protested that he was not the wanted gun-man, though admitting that he was frequently mistaken for him. Once in the city he was told to "beat it" back out Chillicothe street, and he ran like a scared deer.

TEMPORARY BRIDGE IS TO BE CLOSED TONIGHT

The heavy rains of the past few days have started the Scioto river a booming and the situation as regards the newly completed temporary bridge at the Point is almost as bad as it was recently.

To safeguard life and property Henry Ruel, builder and keeper of the bridge, announces that he will close it to travel from this evening at 7:30 until 5:30 Friday morning. Only light rigs were permitted to cross the structure Thursday. Mr. Ruel fearing that heavy loads might loosen the bridge. He said whether or not it would be torn out again depended on drift. While the stream was running out strongly all day Thursday the run of drift was light and unless the Columbus rise, which is due to reach Portsmouth Friday, brings drift in large quantities no real danger is thought likely.

TERMINALS

The coal business on the N. & W. is gradually increasing. All agents and yardmasters have received instructions to keep empty coal cars on the move toward the coal fields and to have all cars emptied as soon as possible after arriving at their destination.

Kelley Bros. have started excavating for paving on Walnut street, through the Buck and Snyder field.

Six inch water mains have been laid on Chestnut street. Harmon and Ernest Veneer, Will Jackson and James Weeks, of the Jackson and Veneer grocery, motored to Hales Creek Thursday afternoon and visited relatives of Mr. Jackson and the Messrs. Veneer.

The Safety First car of the N. & W. is due to arrive here Saturday morning from Ironton. The first safety first demonstration will be given Monday morning at 9 o'clock, and every day at 9, 3, 4 and 5 o'clock. The car is in charge of J. L. Durham. The N. & W. Safety First campaign has greatly lessened the number of accidents and fatalities resulting from accidents on the road.

Ties and rails were laid last night to connect the new street car track at the city's east corporation line to the temporary track, to Gallia pike. Guy wire poles were put up Wednesday and the trolley wire was hung Wednesday evening. The new track used for the first time Thursday is through the last stretch of paving from Plum street, east to the corporation line. The new track is now being used all the way from Young street to the end of the paving.

Dr. Appel had his work some time ago, but the British government was at first unwilling to give him safe conduct home.

COMPLAINT

Complaints about a bad vault at 1320 Union street have been referred to Dr. W. W. Smith, city health officer.

A petition signed by property owners of Larsson street and Robinson avenue, praying for relief from an alleged intolerable condition caused by dense volumes of smoke and soot, necessitating the closing of doors and windows during hot weather and depriving them from the use of back yards for drying clothes has been referred to Fire Chief W. A. McQuat for investigation.

Remarkable Double Tree.
There is said to be in Kentucky a tree bearing each year a crop of walnuts and a crop of mulberries; and the curious phenomenon is accounted for by the supposition that a mulberry seed fell where a walnut lay in the ground, and the young shoots came up side by side and united their forces into one solid trunk. This supposition seems feasible from the fact that the bark of the tree is on one side that of walnut and on the other that of the mulberry.

Business men who are undecided are requested to investigate and see if this is not so. Remember there are numerous business sections and many business men. Some of the most active Kaps men in the city are leading business men.

Mr. Kaps has his share of professional men, lawyers, doctors, bankers, etc. He has an exceedingly big following among the working people. This is an industrial city and the working men are not to be overlooked either in the primary or in the election. Read this:

"Whatever there is of greatness in the United States, or indeed in any other country, is due to labor. The laborer is the author of all greatness and wealth. Without labor there would be no government and no leading class, and nothing to preserve."—U. S. GRANT.

Before Kaps became a business man and a contractor, he had been a working man. The fruits of his labor are to be seen in scores of business houses, hundreds of homes, miles of paved streets, etc. He numbers among his friends, without reference to party, practically all the workmen of Portsmouth. With him at the head of the ticket in the fall election the masses of the people would vote, the Republican ticket as never before. Nominate the strongest man.

"Brother Officers" Paramount at dell and is rewarded for heroism.

This excellent military drama, enacted by an English company, when shown at the Strand theatre New York city, had a most successful run. Many theatregoers remember with pleasure the stage production, in which William Faversham and Margaret Anglin appeared and will be glad to see a play of such merit so well presented on the screen. For those who did not see the production in its original form, it would be well to explain that, although a drama of military life, neither German spies nor "important papers" figure in the play. In other words, it is strictly neutral, dealing with the dramatic rather than thrilling aspects of soldier life.

In some of the early scenes, laid in India, there is a stirring engagement between a detachment of natives and a handful of English soldiers. John Hinds, the hero, saves the life of young Lieutenant Play-sands, will be seen at the Arcana theatre tonight in one of his latest successes. There is no real reason why the Chaplin features should be extolled—everybody is satisfied when they see one. Manager Potts has booked one of those heart interest dramas, in a two-reel feature, entitled "The Valley of the Silent Man." This great production will be featured by Ben Wilson and Dorothy Phillips, two favorites with Arcana patrons. See it tonight. And last will be a one reel riot of fun entitled "The Sign of the Sacred Saffron." See it and laugh until your sides ache. And remember, this big program for only five cents.

OHIO RAILROADS CAN'T HAVE DIFFERENT RATES

Columbus, Aug. 5.—Ohio railroads may not justify any alleged differences in rates for coal carrying as between Ohio and West Virginia mines by showing varying conditions in mining conditions or grades of coal, according to a ruling given by the State Utilities Commission today in the initial hearing of the complaints by coal miners and operators against the railroads. The burden of the complaint is that the lower rates granted West Virginia coal operators by the railroads has partly crippled the coal industry in Ohio.

and has caused among other things general conditions of idleness particularly in the Hocking coal district. The hearing is being held at the Franklin county court house.

Counsel for the railroads consumed much time today in trying to show differences in mining conditions as between the two states but finally were overruled. The miners and operators introduced as their first witness Professor Frank A. Ray, head of the department of mining engineering at Ohio State University. He consumed most of the morning session of the hearing showing the commission the actual conditions. He declared among other things that owing to various causes not more than 6 percent of the coal resources of Ohio have been exploited.

MINERS GET WORK

Cleveland, August 5.—One hundred and fifty coal miners from Southern Ohio shouldered picks and shovels here today and began their first consecutive eight hours work in months. They were put to work on jobs in various lines of labor here through the efforts of the State Free Employment Bureau, having been brought from the mine region last night by state officials who are endeavoring to relieve suffering among the families of miners long idle due to the recent coal strike.

WAR SERVICES HELD IN INDIA

Simla, India, August 5.—(Via Canada)—Intercession services are being held in the churches, mosques and temples throughout India, all sections of the British and Indian communities participating. Numerous patriotic meetings also have been organized by Indian citizens. It is estimated that $5,000,000 has been subscribed to the British war loan through Bombay and Calcutta.

GERMANY DENIES BELGIAN ASSERTION

Berlin, August 5.—(By Wireless to Sayville)—The Overseas News Agency says:

"The assertion made in the Belgian gray book that Germany four months before the war broke out offered to divide the Belgian Congo with France and to strike Belgium from the list of independent countries is pronounced officially to be a ridiculous invention and is declared to be without the slightest foundation."

GERMANY IS WILLING TO PAY FOR WM. FRYE

Washington, August 5.—The controversy between the United States and Germany over the sinking of the American ship William F. Frye still remained unsettled with the publication today of the latest German note again justifying the German course and reiterating a willingness to make a reparation for the ship.

Replying to the last American representations, Germany, in justification of the sinking of the Frye, adheres to her previous claim that it was not in contravention of the Prussian-American treaty or international law. The whole controversy hinges on Article Thirteen of that treaty, the American contention being that it specifically protects the Frye from being sunk, although not protecting a contraband cargo. Germany, on the other hand, contends that the article only obligates her to pay damages.

In again offering to pay for the ship, Germany accepts the American proposal that the amount of damages to be fixed by two experts, one to be selected by each country and pledges prompt payment with the stipulation, however, that it shall not be regarded as payment for violation of American rights.

Should that method be unsatisfactory, the United States is invited to arbitration at The Hague. It is considered that the commission method will be satisfactory to the United States, provided, however, that no treaty rights are waived. Should the United States allow the controversy to go to The Hague for interpretation of the treaty provision or continues to discuss the issue through diplomatic channels, it is virtually certain that it will insist that meanwhile Germany refrain from violation of what the United States contends are its rights.

May Change Rates Of Coal Shipments

Columbus, August 5.—The entire question of changing rates on coal even in traffic within the state properly belongs to the Interstate Commerce Commission and should be left to that body by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission according to arguments which railroad companies were ready to present to the commission here today when the hearing on miners' complaints against coal rates was opened. The attitude of the railways as explained during the legislative session several months ago when a measure was being considered to reduce freight rates within the state, is that the whole schedule of coal rates in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana would be disarranged by a revision of Ohio rates. It was expected counsel for the railroads might urge this as basis for asking that the case be dismissed by the Ohio Utilities Commission.

WILL DISCUSS EUGENICS

San Francisco, August 5.—"Eugenics and War" by David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford University, and many other addresses were on the program for today's session of the National Convention for Race Betterment in session here. There are too many frills in the public schools and not enough in structure.

tion along practical lines, according to a paper read to the conference by Dr. Dixon, of Pennsylvania University. "The curriculum now used by our educators," Dr. Dixon says, "Demands radical alteration. We are teaching much theory and not enough of the practical, every day occupations."

TEMPERANCE MEN FIGHT ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Columbus, August 5.—The Ohio anti-saloon league and the Ohio temperance union have locked horns in a state-wide fight and echoes of one of the smaller battles reached the state board of agriculture today.

The charges that the Temperance Union is a "wet" organization in disguise and the league officials are trying to bar the propaganda literature of the Union from all county fairs. The Green county fair board has sent in a communication saying it prohibited the temperance union literature.

Praises German Influence In U. S.

San Francisco, August 5.—German influence in America for freedom, education, religion, culture and good citizenship was proclaimed second to none, in an address here today by Dr. C. J. Hexamer, of Philadelphia, president of the National German American Alliance. Dr. Hexamer was the principal speaker at "German Day" at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. "What Greece was to Rome," he said, "Germany is the widest sense is to our beloved land, only with the further distinction and advantage in our favor that the Greek brought to Rome with his culture disgusting sensual vices, while the German, with his culture brings to his new home sturdy integrity and a pure and happy family life."

Admits Wrecking Numerous Trains

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 5.—Harry G. Hontz, who gives Lehighton, Pa., as his home, is in jail here today, having surrendered to the police last night and confessed that he wrecked the Scenic Limited on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad near Springfield, Utah, last Monday when several cars left the rails and many persons narrowly escaped injury. Hontz said he threw a piece of angle iron under the train to shove it off the railroad because a brakeman had ejected him from a freight train. Hontz said he was arrested in 1910 and sent to prison for wrecking a semaphore and sending a hand car against a mail train at Fernley, Nevada.

GERMANY WILLING TO PAY NORWAY

London, August 5.—A Reuter dispatch from Christiania says: "Germany has informed Norway that the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Minerva was due to unfortunate circumstances which led the commander of the submarine to believe the vessel was British. Germany has expressed deep regret and a willingness to pay damages."

American Marines Complete Occupation

Port Au Prince, Haiti, August 5.—The marines who landed last night from the American battleship Connecticut, had by this morning completed the occupation of the city. They are in possession also of the barracks at Dessalines. The people of Port Au Prince are generally of the opinion that this American occupation will be of long duration. The marines are observing a very correct attitude, which is creating a good impression.

There is no change in the local political situation. The national assembly is awaiting the decision of Dr. Rosalvo Bobo whose revolutionary forces drove out the last government under the late President Guillaume as to whether he desires to be elected to the presidency.

WORKMAN HAS A CLOSE CALL

Nick D. Arnett was struck on the right side of his face, near the temple, by the rivet set, or gun of an air-hammer, while working on Span No. 2 of the new county bridge, and but for a fellow employee, Ed Burris, catching him in his arms, would have fallen from his high position into the Scioto river Thursday. Dr. O. W. Robe sewed up his wound and later removed him to his room at the West End hotel.

Picnics Enjoyed By Two Churches

About 200 members of the Fourth Street M. E. Sunday school attended the school picnic held at Millbrook park Thursday afternoon. The majority of the crowd attended the ball game, while the younger set amused themselves by playing games, and riding on the merry-go-round. The picnic supper was served by the Sunday school and all were served at one long table near the Casino. The committee in charge of the supper was Amelia Bittner, Rosa Wendelken, Charles J. Miller, Mrs. Louis Clausen and Mrs. Fred Gabler. Although threatening clouds filled the sky, a large number attended.

ASKS $30,000 FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Toledo, August 5.—Alleging that the death of her husband left her and her nine children under 16 years of age without support, Loretta M. Sweeney today filed suit against the Michigan Central Railway for $30,000 damages. It is stated in the petition that the husband, Michael J. Sweeney, was killed November 23, while employed as a switchman by the defendant.

UMPIRE HART QUITS

Cincinnati, August 5.—It was announced here today that Umpire William Hart, of the National League had resigned and that he umpired his last game in this circuit yesterday in the Brooklyn-Cincinnati game.

It is stated that the resignation is entirely voluntary.

IN THE RIGHT WAY

In a commendable spirit and action the county commissioners and the management of the street railroad have gotten together and traction tracks will be laid over the new bridge across the Scioto. Thereby proper and prudent provision is made for a development that will come, possibly, much sooner than is expected, a traction service to the west side. This service will quicken the up-building of a suburb that is already of consequence than most citizens realize, as a considerable number, who work in the city, have their homes about Union Mills.

The laying of the track will more distinctly than ever emphasize the mistake that was made in building two so-called tow-paths across the Scioto bottom, with both far below the high water line, instead of one with a "Y" at the west end, well up to that line. This latter would not only have saved a large sum in construction, but it would have given west side track entrance in the city at all times, except during real flood periods.

WE JOY IN JOILET

Wednesday morning papers were filled with many a story about havoc wrought by waters, ensuing from abnormal rains. They were all stories, too, in other than the journalistic. That is most of them were perverted exaggerations of damage and destruction. That is they all were with one bright and gleaming exception, which said exception was date-lined Joliet, Illinois. The truthful James from there didn't disdain and discard figures because they did not run scampering up into the tens of thousands, leaving an impression of millions, but he held safe to the lines of soberness and fact, relating that a number of chickens and a few cattle were drowned, entailing a loss of several hundred dollars. Best story of all. It doesn't confuse you and leave you disturbed over the vagueness and uncertainty of the thing you are trying to grasp in something of detail and certainty. Several hundred is altogether comprehensible. It must mean at least three and less than a thousand. "A number" is not definite and more than "a few," but they are perfectly understandable. Gazing with the eye of imagination, it is easy enough to see the rushing, roaring river despoiling a dozen or so altogether foolish appearing pullets, oblivious of the fate awaiting them, floating nonchalantly on the crest, with here and there a Bossey, with strange glare in her usually calm and meek optics, making frantic effort to breast the tide. And then, knowing the price of spring chicken to the consumer, it comes so naturally and easy to figure and exclaim: "There go several hundred dollars."

Teddy is still snorting and breathing fire and brimstone over the invasion of Belgium. Here's a case where distance makes the difference between patriotism and treason. It was treason for anybody to complain of the taking of Panama from Columbia.

It is awful how a good man will eventually go wrong. Tom Edison has invented a factory whistle that can be heard twenty miles.

The New York Sun, re-actionary, says Willis, as a presidential candidate, is such a monstrous joke as to be almost a tragedy; the Wichita Eagle, owned by Victor Murdock, progressive, says Willis as a presidential candidate is not only impossible but absurd. And the fun of it is both are exactly right.

As long as that horrid Jack Arnold persists in snooping around, there seems no chance of our good young governor getting to stretch his wings as a presidential possibility, a million times remote by a trip to the Panama exposition.

The heaven is getting in its perfect work. Even in West Virginia the G. O. P. organs are beginning to show signs of rebellion, and rebellion ever precedes independence.

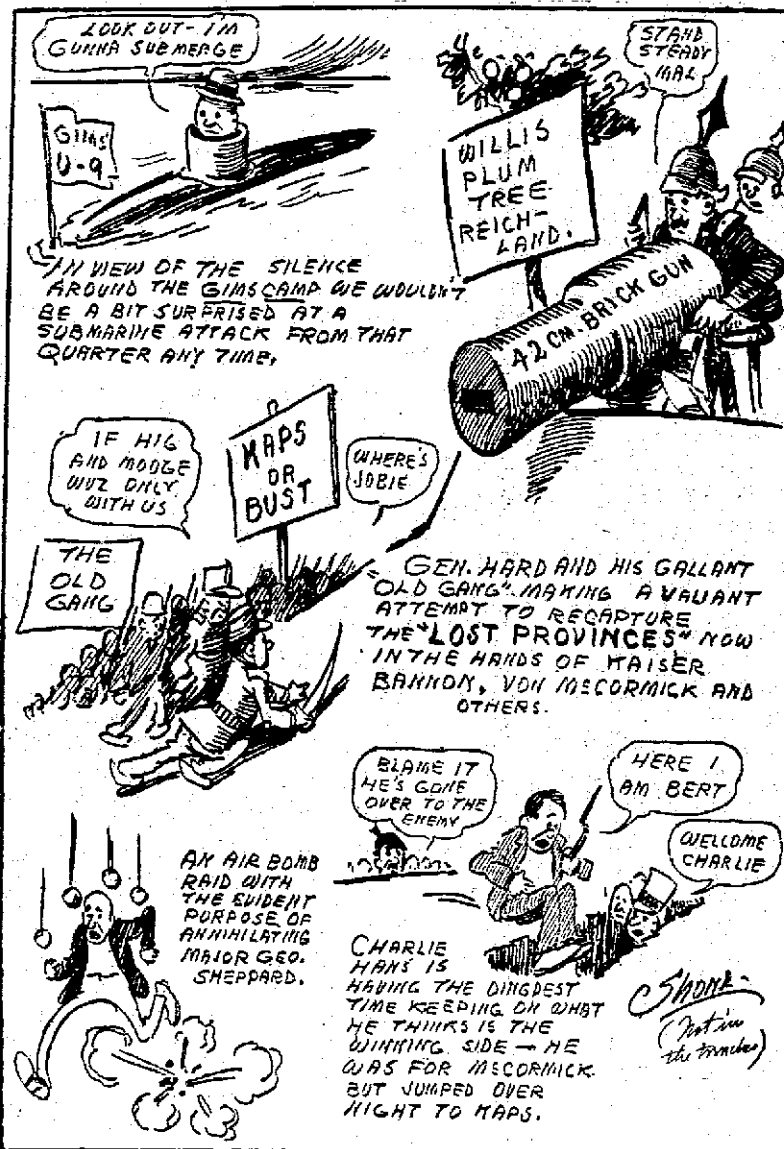

All we are sorry for is the heathen didn't get to raging sooner. The literary bureaus of the mayoralty candidates are but beginning to say and tell things interesting, with the primary no farther away than Tuesday.

The modern way is different. In Virginia the Dupont powder company, built a factory to employ ten thousand men. Did it wait for these men to come and build themselves homes? Not a day. It built a city, at the same time it was building a factory and when it was ready to operate there were the workmen already domiciled and waiting for the whistle to blow.

Villa has thought better of it and withdrawn his malediction of to hell with the United States. May be he has heard the dog days are at hand up here.

George Sheppard says the waterworks pumping station is located just where it should be and as it should be, and if it isn't the pesky Democrats are to blame. George is the only person that believes that—if he does believe it—and the only one with foolhardiness enough to say it.

There is no truth in the report of another eruption in Mount Lassen. It is only the rumble of Bryan and Roosevelt winging their way east from the Slope.

Did it ever strike you that our local rains are an unalloyed blessing, while all the trouble they make is started far away, where it doesn't seem to have any judgment?

Some people like to be contrary. At Parkersburg some citizens are opposing an amalgamation of the two telephone systems.

They have some unique thieves in West Virginia. One was caught stealing corn from the fields of a country store-keeper at night, and then selling it to her in the day time.

The mayor received quite a number of postcard views of the steamer Eastland disaster and rescuing of victims Wednesday from a friend, Attorney Richard J. Jaeger, of Chicago.

New York, August 5.—The eager young men and women who are about to sail forth to this theoretically palpitating metropolis for fame and fortune may be enthusiastic over the new apartment house that is to be built.

The new marble lined structure, simple in its elegance, will have for rental apartments for one or even two for the lump sum of $20,000 a year and it is within easy walking distance of the best moving picture shows in town. Prospective tenants should bring references from their pastor.

Seriously New York home life is slowly being destroyed. Only in Brooklyn and in the far end of uptown Manhattan can one secure a home with a yard and all the things that make for comfort. Most newcomers to New York take up family hotel life and when they become inoculated with the ease which it offers they rarely go in for real housekeeping and if they do it is a tiny furnished apartment.

Irvin Cobb, noted for his daring in openly displaying a wrist watch, has sent a chortle up and down Broadway by pulling a new and very picturesque metaphor. "Gosh," he said the other day in speaking of his experiences in the war zone, "I didn't have any more privacy than a goldfish."

It seems that the question about the ultimate stage of intoxication will not be shunted to one side lightly. It is the burning question along the White Streak. Milton Bronner, a former Louisville newspaperman, may have solved the problem.

Down in a village in the moonshine district near the feudal section of Breathitt county a man lay face up with the boiling sun beating down upon him. By him was an empty bottle.

The sheriff was called and after looking him over said: "He's drunk."

"He's not," snapped a woman by-stander. "He's nothin' of the kind. I just seen his fingers move."

After all that may be the ultimate state of unsobriety.

Willing To Do His Share

During a particularly nasty dust storm at one of the camps a recruit ventured to seek shelter in the sacred precincts of the cook's domain.

After a time he broke an awkward silence by saying to the cook:

"If you put the lid on that camp kettle you would not get so much of the dust in your soup."

The irate cook glared at the intruder and then broke out:

"See here, me lad. Your business is to serve your country."

"Yes," interrupted the recruit, "but not to eat it."—Tit-Bits.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, August 5.—The strength of the industrials yesterday brought in a large amount of buying orders overnight and at the opening today there was eager bidding for the popular issues. Trading in United States Steel was unusually heavy. It opened with 7,000 shares at 70 1/2 to 71 1/4, a new high record since 1912 and an overnight gain of a point. Subsequently there were transactions in blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares. Bethlehem steel rose 9 points to 299, as compared with its previous high record of 290. Continental Can gained 7 1/2 and a large number of other specialists 1 to 3 points. Allis Chalmers, which lost three points was the only one of the stocks to show weakness. The railroads were again neglected. Southern Pacific was heavy.

Execution of the early buying orders exhausted the immediate upward movement and the list fell back on realizing and bear selling. Gains were largely obliterated, and several issues retreated materially under yesterday's closing. Stocks came on the market freely and there was more activity on the down grade than when prices were advancing.

The fact that a large amount of idle money is seeking investment, and indications that a stubborn short interest in particulars had been driven in brought in outside buying which carried some stocks to new high levels. Bethlehem steel touched 301.

Near midday the list rose vigorously again under the leadership of Crucible Steel which jumped to 78 1/2. Bonds were steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, August 5.—Improved weather both in the winter crop belt and in the spring wheat states had a bearish effect today in the wheat market. Reports as to the chances of averting serious black rust damage were much more hopeful than was the case yesterday and recent buyers showed a decided tendency to take profits. Opening prices, which ranged from a share to 7 1/2 lower, were followed by a material setback in values all around.

Corn turned down grade with wheat. The better weather handicapped the bulls. After opening unchanged to 1/2 lower, prices underwent moderate additional declines. Reports of larger country offerings weakened oats. There was quite free selling on the part of speculative longs.

Larger receipts of hogs than expected brought about weakness in provisions. Some of the selling was of a stop loss character.

The final dealings gave another striking demonstration of rising strength. United States Steel touched 72 1/2 and Bethlehem Steel 307.

After an early rise the stock market vanished when the bears partly became active with advice was resumed later on pool operations in leading war shares and a drive against the short interests.

Later something of a rally took place in wheat owing to signs of large export sales. The close, however, was unsettled at 7 1/2 to 13 1/2 and 1/2 under last night.

Cool temperatures tended afterward to harden the corn market. The close though was nervous.

MR. HARD STATES HE WILL ANSWER CRITICS IN SPEECH

Charles E. Hard, who feels he has been the target of bitter attacks from the literary bureaus of the McCormick and Osborn campaign committees during the present campaign, announced Thursday morning that he would break his long silence and answer his political enemies at the big Kaps rally at Kendall's hall Friday evening, the closing meeting of the Kaps forces.

Mr. Hard added that he will handle his opponents without gloves, and "Show that their advertising campaign has been characterized by a series of false statements and misrepresentations calculated to befog the real issues and work to the disadvantage of the Kaps candidacy."

"For the past two weeks, the Osborn and McCormick advertisements have repeatedly referred to me either as a factional boss or a disappointed office seeker, out for revenge," said Mr. Hard. "Their repeated attacks have made it imperative for me to make a public statement, or by my silence, admit the truth of their statements. I had hoped to go through this primary campaign without making a speech or a statement of any kind, but their unfair attitude has made it imperative for me to do so."

"I am a Republican, and it is out of a desire to further the interests of the Republican party that I am supporting Bert Kaps, whom I regard as the strongest and most logical candidate of the party at this time for the office of mayor.

"My political enemies are trying to make capital out of the rumor that I am opposed to Governor Willis because he did not see fit to appoint me to office. I will be a friend and supporter of Governor Willis long after some of his present fair weather friends have deserted him for other leaders who may be able to furnish them with the spoils of office."

"Kaps is not a factional candidate in any sense of the word, and it is unfair to attack him on that score. I expect to answer these unwarranted attacks at the Kaps meeting Friday evening, and I do not intend to mince words, either."

Besides Mr. Hard the other speaker will be George W. Sheppard, former city councilman, who has been making speeches for Kaps for the past two or three weeks. He will discuss municipal problems, and the attitude and qualifications of Mr. Kaps in handling the different propositions that will be presented to him if he is elected mayor.

Kaps supporters are advertising the closing rally all over the city, and they expect the hall to be crowded by the time the oratory starts.

Another Kaps rally will be held in the Third Ward this evening on a vacant lot on Twelfth street, east of Findlay street. The speakers will be George W. Sheppard, Charles E. Hard and John Eckhart.

GEORGIA'S NEW GOVERNOR PROMISES PARDON TO MODERN JEAN VALJEAN

Gov. Nat Harris (top right), T. Edgar Stripling and his daughters Ruth May (top) and Bessie Lucile.

Nat E. Harris, the new governor of Georgia, has promised a pardon to T. Edgar Stripling, doing a life term in the Georgia state prison for the murder many years ago of a man named Cornett who had attempted to commit an outrageous assault upon Stripling's sister. Stripling escaped from the Georgia prison in 1899, two years after his incarceration, and went to Danville, Va., where he became chief of police and lived a clean life under the name of Morris. He was taken back to the Georgia prison a little more than two years ago.

REVIEWS TESTIMONY OF EASTLAND PROBE

Chicago, August 5.—A review of the testimony given and a consideration of responsibility for the disaster were announced today as the program for the county grand jury which is investigating the capsizing of the steamship Eastland July 24th.

Although this body has practically completed the taking of evidence it is not believed that any indictments will be returned before the end of the week or the early part of next week.

Manslaughter and criminal carelessness in the handling of a steamship are charges on which State's Attorney Hoyne said he contemplated drawing indictments. Secretary of Commerce Redfield did not complete his inquiry yesterday because George Chior, supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service spent the day before county judge. Mr. Redfield announced that he would hear Mr. Usher today.

Labor leaders were prepared today to make plans for an investigation of the disaster.

NEW BOSTON

Earl Booth, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Booth, of Cedar street, came near spending Wednesday night in Mayor J. S. Davis' theatre. Young Booth went into the picture show about eight o'clock and fell asleep. Pete Hall locked up shortly after ten o'clock and failed to see the lad. About one o'clock Booth awakened and began crying. Deputy Ike Wells heard the cries and took him to the home of Mayor Davis who had to get up and go to the theatre before the lad could get out.

To the Public, Friends and Customers

As we have previously announced in the daily papers the change of the firm from the New Idea Clothing company to Edelson Bros. company, we take this occasion to thank you all for your kind patronage which we have enjoyed for more than eight years. The steady growth of our business is the only convincing testimony of our honest, fair and square dealing with the public.

For more than eight years we have kept pace with all progressive competitors in our thriving city, and we look upon our achievements with pleasure and pride.

Fully realizing the activity it requires to cope with the modern way of merchandising in such a progressive city of ours I have induced my sons-in-law to take over part of my interest in the old firm which they did and the business will now be conducted as Edelson Bros. company.

I am fully confident of their success as they are both veterans in the retail business and know how to conduct it with modern methods. The reorganization will mean an enlargement of the business by adding new departments. We are adding a complete line of ladies' ready-to-wear garments and our aim and desire is to give to the public the best values, the best service and the best treatment.

We are remodeling the store, interior and exterior, and when completed will be one among the best in our city. The announcement of our opening will appear in our daily papers at some later date.

WARSAW IS CAPTURED

to inflict smashing blows upon the Russians from this direction.

Step by step the Austro-German hosts pounded their way toward the city from north and south, while on the west activities along the line of entrenchments that had so long held off the Germans in that section were resumed. Before the power of the Teutons engaged in this encircling movement the armies of Grand Duke Nicholas began to fall back.

REACH TWENTY MILES OF GOAL

Prsanysz, to the north of Warsaw, was occupied and the German armies swept on. By July 19 they had forced the Russians back to the line of the Narew river and pushed their way to within twenty miles of their goal. The fortress of Ostrolenka was taken and the Nowogeorgievsk fortification, the key to Warsaw on the north, was approached. To the south, Radom was occupied and the Russian lines of communication in the Lublin region threatened.

Then began a tightening of the German lines around the capital. The Teutons forced their way past Blonie, southwest of the city, pushed their way across the river and the battering at the fortified gates of the city started in earnest on Tuesday of this week by Bavarian troops under command of Prince Leopold of Bavaria.

From the beginning of the war the salient in the Russian line formed by the band necessary to include Warsaw and a large portion of Poland had been thrown from the desk of the Russian military authorities. They showed this by their desperate, and at times partially successful attempts to straighten their fighting front. Before they could advance at the center and move west from Warsaw the wings must be brought up so as to prevent successful flanking movements. Simultaneously, in East Prussia on the north and in Galicia on the south, the Russian armies began to push forward. Twice in East Prussia they were swept back but before last winter.

They were swept back but before last winter set in they had succeeded in pressing their way through Galicia and were nearing Cracow, which is almost directly on a line south of the Polish capital. In the spring however, after Przemyśl had fallen into their hands and the victorious Russian armies were threatening the German border an invasion of Hungary came the organized Austro-German movement which re-captured the great Austrian fortress and swept the Russian lines back further east in some sections than they held early in the war. The Warsaw salient, thus exposed hazardously from the South was additionally relieved by the German advance in the Baltic provinces which acted not only as a supporting movement to the flank attack on Warsaw, but threatened to cut off the retreat of the Russian armies.

The first determined drive against Warsaw from the west occurred last October. Within a short time the Germans advanced guards penetrated to within 10 miles of the city over which German aeroplanes and Zeppelins flew. The Russians moved troops hastily from Galicia, where they had been pressing the Austrians hard and Warsaw slipped from the hands of the Germans in the face of a vigorous Russian counter offensive, which swept them back to their borders.

The body was taken to Coroner Hanley's morgue to which place the others had been removed and it was then seen that twenty victims of the disaster had been identified, although it was known that at least 15 more had been lost.

Figures compiled by the authorities caused the belief that at least forty others were lost. The work of clearing up the city was commenced in earnest this morning.

The naval militia was called out to reinforce the national guardsmen on duty guarding the stricken section and sightseers were kept away from the working gangs.

These men were detailed in parties under competent foremen so that the best possible results could be obtained in the least possible time.

Mayor Stein announced that he had received offers of relief from many cities in Pennsylvania but that he thought the city would be able to take care of its own expenses. The public eating houses opened yesterday were in position to take care of many persons who had neither food nor shelter, while charitable people provided liberally with clothes, those who had lost their all in the torrent.

Physicians from the Pennsylvania health department arrived here during the night, and at once took up the task of safeguarding the city from pestilence.

Estimates of the damage continue to mount as the extent of the flood becomes apparent. Where it was believed that $3,000,000 would cover the loss it was today asserted that probably $5,000,000 would be nearer the correct estimate.

BLOW OHIO SAFE

Steubenville, O., August 5.—Cracksmen blew the safe in the post office at Brilliant, Ohio, seven miles south of here today and escaped with $200 in money and $1,000 in stamps. Later the same gang attempted to loot the post office at Mingo Junction, three miles from here, but were apprehended while in the act of cracking the safe and escaped to the hills after a running battle with Officers Jack Brown and Scott Roe. One robber is believed to have been wounded. Twenty shots were exchanged.

City In Holiday Attire Observe Loyalty Day

Chillicothe street and the business district had on the appearance of a holiday Thursday afternoon, the majority of the retail stores being closed on account of Loyalty Day at the ball park. The street cars in the early part of the afternoon were crowded with hoisters, headed for the ball park, the most of whom paid a dollar for their tickets. The River City Band gave a concert at the Government square and paraded through the business district before they left for the park. The Loyalty movement was a gigantic success, and insures baseball in Portsmouth for the rest of this year and 1916. It is estimated that 1100 people witnessed the game this afternoon between Portsmouth and Maysville.

GOOD RACES TOMORROW AT THE WAVERLY FAIR

Rain Wednesday morning and threatening weather in the afternoon somewhat affected the attendance on the opening day of the Pike County Fair in Waverly Wednesday, but, at that, the crowd greatly exceeded last year's opening day's attendance. There are more amusement concessions on the grounds than ever before, included in which is a Wild West show, a motor dome for motorcycles, and the usual run of fair concessions, including a merry-go-round, and other amusements. The fair management has barred all suggestive and improper shows and this is meeting with general favor. Summaries of Wednesday's racing is given below:
2:30 Pace—Purse $200.
Rodney W., Martin and Good, Dayton, 7-5-2.
Lucy C., John Wilson, Coalton, 8-2-3.
Happy Dillon, S. J. Artman, Zanesville, 3-4-8.
Sorrel Prince, Week Shilling, Beaver, 8-8-8.
Ralph Marlowe, E. B. Allen, Logan, 6-6-6.
Go Patch, Jack Willum, Vanecburg, 5-7-7.
Willard, William Engard, London, 1-1-1.
Spanish Rose, Fred Hatfield, Ironton, 2-3-4.
Time—2:19, 2:17½, 2:17½.
County Trot and Pace—Purse $50.
Prince, Clarence Otey, Waverly, 2-1-1-1.
Caroline, Vick Smith, Givens, 1-2-2-2.
Happy, Dick Dawson, Stockdale, 4-4-4-4.

WOUNDED, BUT HAPPY TO HAVE GIVEN ALL FOR FRANCE

The scene here pictured was witnessed in Amberien, a small town at the base of the Jura, on the road from Lyons to Geneva. A pathetic procession was this, of the lame and the halt French soldiers who had been wounded in action and sent back from the firing line to recuperate. Willah, regardless of their wounds, many of which will never heal, these French fighters are cheerful and happy to have given what they could to their "dear France."

SOCIETY

Mrs. J. W. Daehler and two children have gone to Union City, Ind., for a month's visit with relatives.

The Women's Bible class of Manley church met Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors and spent a very delightful afternoon with readings, recitations and needlework. An elegant repast was served at a prettily adorned table, the colors being pink and white. The favors were pink roses.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Frank Rudman
Mrs. Frank Rudman, of Lick Run, died Wednesday morning, at the old Rudman home, at the ripe age of eighty-four years, after a short illness.

Mrs. Rudman had been a resident of Vernon township for more than half a century, and was the wife of Frank Rudman, one of the German pioneers of Scioto county, who died several years ago, aged about eighty years. The following children survive: Henry C., and William Rudman, Ironton; Mrs. John Thielen and Mrs. Mary Simon, Lick Run; Fred Rudman and Miss Sophia Rudman, both of California. One son, Frank, who had grown to manhood, has been dead for several years.

The Rudman family is one of the most prominent in Scioto county, and is well known throughout Southern Ohio. The funeral took place at St. Mary's church, Wheelersburg, Thursday, and interment was in Lick Run cemetery.

Mrs. Sarah Dryden
Mrs. Sarah Dryden, aged 68 years, wife of Squire Dryden, died at their home in Sandy Springs Tuesday and was buried Thursday. Their son-in-law, Minor Foster, a former employee of the Home Telephone Company, of Portsmouth, is also reported very low with brain trouble.

Mrs. Magdalena Berndt
Mrs. Magdalena Koenig Berndt, aged 64 years, widow of the late Jacob P. Berndt, died rather suddenly at her home 915 Thirtieth street, Thursday afternoon after only a week's illness with stomach trouble.

Mrs. Berndt was a native of Germany and previous to moving to Portsmouth lived at Otway. Of four children born to her and husband two daughters survive: Mrs. Callie Essman, wife of John D. Essman, of New Boston, and Miss Lillian Berndt, at home. She also leaves six brothers and five sisters to mourn her death. They are: William Koenig, of Otway, Charles, of Kansas, George, of Illinois, John, of Indiana, Henry, of Mineral Springs, and Jacob, of North Dakota; Miss Carrie Koenig, of Cincinnati, Mesdames Mary Smith, Meek Penn, George Eichenlaub, and Philip Loeven-guth, of Otway. She was a faithful member of the Central Presbyterian church, a devoted mother, kind neighbor and good Christian woman. The funeral will take place from the late home probably Saturday at 2 p. m., with burial in Greenlawn cemetery.

Miss Frances Chapman.
Mrs. Grace Allison, in charge of Day Nursery on Third street, was called to Catlettsburg Thursday morning on account of the death of her sister, Miss Frances Chapman, which occurred Wednesday evening.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, moan, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 90.

It will break your heart to marry such a man.

Dear Dolly: I am a former Portsmouth young man and I am now serving as a baker in the United States army stationed at Eagle Pass, Texas. I am working with a man from Pittsburgh, Pa., and he is thinking of coming to our beautiful city with me when I get discharged, and he has asked me to write to you, Dolly, and find out if he could find a nice, handsome widow if he came to our city. At present he is a bachelor at the ripe old age of forty, and a baker by trade. He owns a couple of lots in the city he is from, and he is looking for a mate to share his troubles. Now Dolly any information will be a relief to him as he wants to come to Portsmouth but his address is: Mr. George Deitz, 175 Infantry, Bakery Quarter, Master Corps, Eagle Pass, Texas.

I am writing this at his request. I remain as ever a former resident and always a booster for our Queen and River City.

P. S.—He will be looking for answer from you, Dolly. I hope Portsmouth will have a bigger Korn Carnival this year. Sorry I can't be there.

Submitted to the widow readers of The Times.

Dear Dolly Wise:—Will you please help me in my dilemma? I love a man very much and I know he loves me as he has asked me to marry him but he does not like to work, and is often out of employment. What can I do? Must I give him up?

SADIE

Unless the young man goes to work and tries to keep in steady employment, do not risk your happiness to him. If he truly loves you he will want to work steadily to give you the pleasures and necessities of life. It will not break your heart to give him up if he is too lazy to work, but 1364. A Simple and Becoming Dress, Suitable for House, Parlor or Business Wear.

Ladies' House Dress with Sleeve in either of two lengths. This desirable model has a popular 4 piece skirt, made with a neat lap tuck at the back seam. The waist shows a square yoke, (a new style feature) with plaited fullness at the fronts. The sleeve in wrist length is stylish and quite in keeping with the shirt waist style of the waist. In elbow length it is attractively cool and comfortable. The skirt has "popular" pockets, is cut with ample fullness, and will be very satisfactory as to fit and style. This design is fine for gingham, chambray, percale, voile, linen, galatea, seersucker if used as a house dress. For business wear, tub silk, voile, crepe, poplin or taffeta would be nice. This pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 7 yards of 36 inch material for a 36 inch size. The skirt measures about 3 yards at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Orders for patterns are forwarded to New York to be filled, hence it requires several days for the pattern to reach the purchaser. Patterns can not be ordered by telephone. Do not use postage stamps for larger denomination than two cents.

CAUTION—Order adult patterns by number of pattern, giving bust measure for waist pattern, and waist measure for skirt patterns. For Misses and Children give number of pattern and age only.

SOCIETY

A double wedding took place last evening at the home of Mrs. C. E. Thumma, 813 Fourth street, which was pretty in all the details. Mr. Earl Wilson Cunningham, steward at the Washington Hotel, and Miss Maud Spencer, formerly of Argillite, Ky., were married first. Rev. T. H. McAfee, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating at both ceremonies. The attendants were Miss Amanda Hackworth and Mr. Earl Shively. The bride wore a dainty gown of white French lace trimmed in white satin and she wore a corsage bouquet of bride roses and smilax. Her maid wore a lovely gown of white and blue flowered organdie. Her corsage bouquet was of pink roses and smilax. The ceremony was most impressive, in the benediction the hands of the two couples being joined together. After the ceremony ice cream and cake were served. The two brides cut and passed the bride's cake. Miss Mary Lowe found the ring, and the other articles have not been discovered. The rooms were attractive, in colored paper and bolls and the dining-room was adorned with exquisite flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will do light house-keeping in the rooms on the first floor of Mrs. Thumma's home and Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will room on the top floor at the same home. The brides will do their own cooking and the groom and bride will be at the hotel. Among a large number of handsome gifts was a silver cream and sugar from the girls of the hotel to Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, and to Mr. and Mrs. Evans they gave silver knives and forks. The clerks of the hotel gave each couple handsome tinware.

The wedding guests included Mr. McNeill, C. Spencer, of Buffalo Furnace, Ky., father of Mrs. Cunningham; Mrs. Mary Mitchell, of Russell, Ky., sister of Mrs. Cunningham; Miss Sallie Jamison, of Argillite, Ky.; the Misses Della Reynolds, Miller, Katherine and Gusta Winkler, Mary Lou, Barbara Vissing, Della Smith, Della Freeman, Lucy Adams, Lily Cunningham, Earl Grishel, James Hall and Mrs. Harry Dandert, of Huntington, sister of Mrs. Cunningham.

Squire A. J. Finney officiated at the marriage about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at George Logan, 21, a farmer, of Petersburg, Ky., and Edna Prater, 19, of Glen Springs, Ky. The ceremony was performed at Squire Finney's residence on Sixth street.

A Portsmouth Interview

Mr. Drenan Tells His Experience.

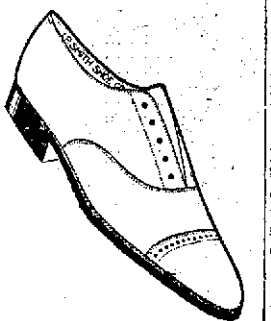

The following brief account of an interview with a Portsmouth man 8 years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Walter Drenan, 1012 Findlay St., Portsmouth, says: "I had constant pains in my back and joints, chills and dizzy spells. The action of my kidneys was irregular. I was so bad that I was down in bed for about two months. I doctored and used many kidney remedies, but nothing helped me. Finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and in a very short time I was entirely cured." (Statement given November 22, 1906.)

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER, Mr. Drenan said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a bad case of kidney trouble and that cure has been permanent. I have advised scores of people who have been suffering from kidney trouble to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

BAKER

The Sleepless Shoeman
845 GALLIA STREETGRANDMA USED SAGE
TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is falling, gray or dry, scraggy and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not styled, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by moving it from the roots to the tips. In a few days all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Secret.)
The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful, says a well-known physician, is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these organs, no healthy products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, tired, nervous, sluggish, dazed, with wrinkles and lines of age.

But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without troubling evil after-effects, is the problem. Fortunately, there is a remedy of unquestioned merit, which has won for itself an enviable reputation. It is the famous "Cathartic" which has been called "vegetable coffee" because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be confused with the real coffee of ordinary origin. There is no habit-forming element in "Cathartic"—that's the name—and its use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these famous vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. "Cathartic" tablets, which may be procured from any druggist, will do away with all those conditions which are a production to any constipated, liver-troubled person.

Cottlettsburg, Ky., Aug. 5.—The rigors of the Harrison Anti-Narcotic law for those addicted to the drug habit, it is believed, prompted Mrs. Amelia Pig, of Hampton City, to end her life yesterday afternoon by jumping in front of No. 2, the Chesapeake & Ohio flyer that passes through Cottlettsburg at five o'clock.

Residents in the neighborhood of the Louisa street crossing observed the woman to be standing behind a telegraph pole near the tracks for several minutes before the train approached. They suspected nothing from her actions. She remained behind the post until the train was approaching less than one hundred feet away. Suddenly, she sprang into the middle of the tracks. Witnesses stated she seemed to be in the act of sitting down with her back to the engine when struck.

The head and arms were severed from the body, which was thrown a distance of fifty feet, slighting in the middle of the tracks, the train passing over it.

The body was taken to the Kilgore morgue where an inquest was held late in the evening by Coroner H. S. Slope, of Ashland.

The victim was forty years old. She had resided for many years in Hampton City, a section of Cottlettsburg. She was known to be addicted to the drug habit, and since the enforcement of the Harrison law she has been almost frantic in her craving for drug.

Dying Man Makes
Unusual Requests

Mrs. Ada Mendenhall of Denver, Ross county, is the principal beneficiary of the will of George W. McNeal, retired city fireman, of Springfield, O., who died Tuesday. He is thought to have a large amount of cash on deposit in the Springfield banks. Mrs. Mendenhall was a former sweetheart of McNeal, according to his friends. She has numerous relatives in Waverly.

McNeal made several unusual requests before he died. He asked that black horses be hitched to the hearse, white ones to the cabs, and no negro drivers. He also asked that his body be not placed in the ground for three days and nights after his death and that his body be laid on his left side, as it hurt him to lie on his right side.

Meetings In Interest
Of Colored People

Mrs. W. P. Chapman has returned from her visit to Cincinnati where she attended the National Ministers' Wives' Association and National Teachers' Association, which convened in the Queen City. She gives the following account of the meetings:

The National Association of Ministers' Wives met in Cincinnati July 27-28 at Allen Temple A. M. E. church. Mrs. M. W. Blackwell called the meeting to order. After devotional and appointment of committees the following officers were elected:

Mrs. M. W. Blackwell, Cincinnati, president.
Mrs. Belle Tanner Temple, Pittsburg, first vice president.
Mrs. Lizzie Francis, Cincinnati, second vice president.
Mrs. M. Taylor, Sevier, Pa., recording secretary.

Mrs. W. P. Chapman, Portsmouth, O., assistant recording secretary.
Mrs. Hattie B. Walker, Cincinnati, corresponding secretary.
Mrs. Viola Calhoun, Cincinnati, treasurer.

Mrs. I. U. Ross, Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Victoria Mills, Xenia, Mrs. M. C. B. Mason, Jacksonville, Fla., National Organizers; Mrs. Rosa M. S. Williams, Ohio; Mrs. Maud Ross Burt, Illinois; Mrs. E. M. Ballou, Kentucky; Mrs. Belle Tanner Temple, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Mary Coles, Missouri, State Organizers.

Papers for discussion: "An Ideal Wife of a Minister"—Mrs. M. Taylor, Sevier, Pa. "The Relation of the Minister's Wives should sustain to One Another"—Mrs. W. P. Chapman.

"Is a Minister's Wife Essential to the Success of a Minister?"—Mrs. M. Clark, Shelbyville, Ind., and also city ministers. "Religious Education in the Home"—Mrs. E. M. Ballou, Newport, Ky.

These papers were very interesting and many good things brought out in the discussion. Quite a number of ministers' wives were in attendance and all enjoyed this grand session. We write with regret that our organizer, Mrs. M. C. B. Mason was unable to attend as at this writing Dr. M. C. B. Mason is critically ill in a Baltimore hospital, and his family were all summoned to his bedside. Our next annual meeting convenes at Pittsburg, August, 1916.

Meeting of School Teachers

The National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools, opened its twelfth annual convention Wednesday, July 28th, at Douglas School, Cincinnati, Ohio, with President Nathan E. Young, Tallahassee, Florida, Prof. G. W. Curry, Guthrie, Okla., Recording Secretary. This association extends over all the country and is composed of many of our most progressive people. Splendid papers and addresses were delivered during the sessions which points to the rapid progress of our race during these fifty years, showing the work of some of our great educators who stand at the head of the colleges, city school and rural schools. Prof. William P. Picken, who stands at the head of Wiley University, Marshall, Texas, one of our rising young educators, gave a splendid address on "Negro Schools and the Suffrage." As a lecturer he ranks among the first. Frank L. Williams, Pine Summer High School, St. Louis, Mo., had the audience spellbound while he addressed on the subject, "Vocational Education."

Booker T. Washington, Jr., agent of Rural School Improvement, Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, gave an interesting study for thirty minutes with stereopticon.

ALLEGES CLERK STOLE
HUSBAND'S AFFECTIONS;
STRONG DENIAL IS MADE

Alleged misconduct between her and which she claims came out of husband, Lou B. Smith, and Della Evans, at Ironton and other places during the past year, is made the basis for a $10,000 alienation suit filed in the local common pleas court by Attorney J. O. Yates, of Ironton, representing Sallie J. Smith, owner of the Smith Furniture Company of Ironton. Charles and Lucy Evans, parents of Della Evans, are also named as defendants, it being alleged that they knew of the affair and profited by the money and furniture, which it is alleged was given to Della Evans by Mr. Smith.

Mrs. Smith, in her petition, states that she married Lou B. Smith sixteen years ago, and that she lived happily with him until about a year ago, when Della Evans came between her and her husband, she says. She further avers that she is the owner of the Smith Furniture Company of Ironton and employed her husband as manager. On July 20th last, she claims, that her husband employed Della Evans to act as clerk in the store and that about ten days later Miss Evans started to practice her wiles to gain her husband's love. Improper relations between them followed soon afterwards, she alleges, the truth of which she ascertained about October 1st, when she caused her discharge from employment at the store.

Prior to this time, she says, her husband had been kind, dutiful and affectionate toward her, but that after he met the Evans girl he became cruel, inattentive and neglectful of her, finally leaving her. She further claims that her husband lavished large sums of money on Miss Evans and a large amount of furniture, value of which aggregated several hundred dollars.

Charles Evans, named as one of the defendants in the suit, on behalf of his wife and daughter, the other two defendants, strenuously denies the allegations in the petition. Mr. Evans states that he, himself, made his daughter resign her position with Mr. Smith because she was needed at home. On behalf of his daughter, he also emphatically denies that she received any money or furniture as alleged in the petition, or that improper relations existed between Mr. Smith and his daughter. Mr. Evans further denies any knowledge of the alleged affair on the part of himself or his wife. He has engaged legal counsel to defend himself, his wife and daughter and will contest the suit.

The Evans family has lived in Portsmouth for years, but a little over a year ago they moved to Ironton. Recently they returned to this city.

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says
Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders

Recommends a Spoonful of Jad Salts In Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

FLASHES FROM THE REAL CENTERS OF SPORT

"LOYALTY TAGS" WILL PROBABLY REACH 1,000

At a meeting of the 'Loyalty Day' Committee held at The Times office last night, a comparison of notes showed that upwards of 750 tags had been disposed of and the outlook for the sale of the coveted mark, 1,000, was most flattering indeed.

However, the mere fact of the sale of tags was not the climax toward which the committee was working. The sale of tickets, of course, meant the raising of a nice sum of money for the club owners, who are far behind the season in dollars and cents. The committee had the raising of money in view, because merriment must be looked upon as the munitions of war. And yet, the reviving of the old fan spirit was one of the main objects in view and it looks as though that had been accomplished. On every hand people stated they would be at the game or break a leg in the effort to get there. The larger the crowd the more the enthusiasm and the larger the receipts. There is no question but today will be the biggest day of the season at Millbrook park, baseballically speaking.

Excelsior Shoe Co. Decided To Close For "Loyalty Day"

Coming across with the purchase of 50 Loyalty Day tickets was not going quite far enough for the Excelsior Shoe Co. The directors, who are always ready to do a turn that will help Portsmouth, decided last evening to close down the big plant at noon today and give the big army of employees a chance to attend the game this afternoon between Portsmouth and Wayville at Millbrook Park. That was one of the best pieces of news received by the committee and will insure several hundred more tags at the game. The Excelsior Shoe Co. will also close and all in all today will go down in history as one of the really big baseball days of the Peconic City. Hurrah for the shoeworkers and their shoe manufacturers.

DR TEST BUYS 10 TAGS

So delightfully pleased was Dr. A. L. Test over the work of his adopted son, Pitcher Hubert Test, who built Charleston to three hits yesterday, giving Portsmouth a 4 to 3 victory, that he hurried up Dan Thomas one of the members of the committee last night and purchased ten loyalty tags and had them reserved for today's game at Millbrook park between Portsmouth and Wayville. He will take a party of ten fans to the game. Dr. Test is one of the most intelligent fans in the city and rarely misses a game here.

He should be mighty proud of his adopted son. The young chap has won thirteen out of the last fourteen games, a record that has never been equalled in any league. The student twirler has developed a new delivery, shooting the ball from a great height. While wild at times, nevertheless he has the necessary confidence and is showing better form every time out. His future seems bright indeed and with a little more experience he will become one of the greatest pitchers in the country. He has the physique and the strength and is bound to go up.

O. H. Henry, of Oliver, Ky., was a business visitor in the city on business Wednesday.

Reds Beat Brooklyn

Those Harried Reds lit up in their might yesterday and before an abbreviated audience, slammed the Brooklyn Dodgers, a fearful blow, putting them down and out to the tune of 4 to 1. Dale twirled for the Reds, while the Dodgers used three twirlers, Appleton, Dell and Coombs. Killefer and Griffith led the Reds at bat.

Portsmouth had its regular team in the field for the first time since Non-Clark's was laid up with an injured foot hobbled around short and Bush's wrenched back was well enough to allow him to take part in the game. Canton only had two chances, one of which he booted, but Bush played a sensational game at second, cutting off several extra base hits and looking like sure hits.

Dale carried off the batting honors with a homer, a double, a single and a sacrifice out of five times up. Spencer also distinguished himself with a circuit smash over the right field fence and Shannon got a double and a single.

There were few despondent fans who left the park because few people were present at the disaster. It was the smallest crowd that attended a ball game this year, and that's going some. A stranger in our midst would imagine that Charleston had a strange hold on last place instead of being league leaders, judging from the support the town is giving the team. President Chilton is thinking seriously of giving trading stamps or a house and lot with each ticket in an effort to get a crowd out to Exhibition Park.

For the benefit of those who did not see the game, this is what happened:

Charleston took the lead right off the jump and pushed three runs across the park before the enemy realized what had happened. Nutter drove a pass and went to third on Dill's single over second. Walt Powell pushed a safety pass Dill while the third baseman was busy surveying Nutter. Nutter scored and Beers went to third. Corbin skied to Shannon and Daubert's long sacrifice fly to left counted Beers, Powell tearing around to third on the throw in. The sun was pretty hot at that place, however, and Walt stole home and caught referee in the oven while Corbin stopped a twister with his back and Troutman allowed three delightful strikes to be called on him.

Sims got into trouble from the start. Dillhofer single and scored on Dill's double to left. Shannon hit to Daubert and Jake got Dill at third. Johnson struck out and Shannon was caught off second by a quick throw from Beers to Daubert.

Portsmouth continued to wallow that ball to the second. After Canton failed, McHenry pushed a sacrifice into the fence, lifted a nice easy fly to Nutter and Everett Clarence made one of his beautiful errors on the play. It was his miff of uncle Dill's fly on Monday. Nutter can make the best errors ever seen on the ball lot. He quickly recovered from his chagrin, however, and forced McHenry to second. Bush tore off a hot single, but he and Spencer perished on the cushions when Mc Test struck out. We will pause long enough to admit that Test is a pitcher, not a batter.

The bombardment continued in the third when Dill and Johnson got singles, but were unable to score. In the fourth Spencer stepped into the first ball pitched and lifted it over the fence, then made a personally conducted tour of the bases amid the plaudits of the multitude. Corbin saved at least two runs in the fifth when he made sensational catches of healthy swats by Dillhofer and Dill. On the first he ran back to the fence and on the other he got the ball in short right field after a hard run. Spencer doubled in center after this and would have cleared the bases but for the work of Corbin.

In the meantime, the local crowd did everything but score runs and hit the ball safely. It looked like a sure score in the fifth when Sims and first on Canton's error and scampered to second when Nutter beat out a bump. With two on base, none out and the heavy end of the batting list up, the owners crowd of loyal fans sharpened their pencils to put down some scores, but Beers forced Sims at third, Powell skied to Dill and Corbin ended the agony by grounding into Bush.

Portsmouth won the game in the seventh. Dill, the first man up knocked the ball out of the lot and was not molested as he trotted over the runways. Shannon singled and went to second on Johnson's hit. Canton was easily disposed of and Mr. Shannon ended the inning by falling asleep off second where he was put out by Mr. Daubert, assisted by Mrs. Beers.

The eighth inning should not be overlooked because it is the only one in which Portsmouth failed to get a hit. At that, they almost put a run away and it was a little lack that prevented it. McHenry hit to Daubert and Jake made a dandy stop. He hurled the ball to first in time to get the runner, but Hudson muffed it. McHenry stole second and Spencer filed to Corbin. Bush hit one of Sim's benders right on the

BASE BALL

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 5.

AFTER a terrific bombardment which lasted nine full innings, Portsmouth put a serious crimp in the Senator's winning streak yesterday, and, after the smoke of battle cleared away, the visitors had a firm hold on the long end of a 4 to 3 score. Mr. Simms, our well known twirler, recently collected by St. Louis was in a generous mood and allowed the invaders twelve healthy swats and these can be used as twelve separate and distinct reasons why Mr. Chilton's sterling athletes did not win the game.

But Mr. Test was the principal cause of the downfall of our heroes. This elongated twirler had the home folks eating out of his hand and they rolled over and played dead every time he desired it. He had our gang of fence busters emulating heavy hitters from the Old Ladies Home in the throes of a batting slump. During the matinee he allowed but three hits, two arriving in the first and the other in the fifth. Those two swats in the opening chapter netted three runs and after that, Mr. Test successfully used his influence to prevent anyone from wandering across the home plate.

It was only a perfunctory performance put up by our gang of hired men, while Portsmouth went into the game to win—and got away with it. To make up for the shortage of runs and hits, Charleston accumulated five perfectly good errors which really lost the game. However, we will not give excuses, and the only place to find the alibi for our defeat is in Mr. Webster's dictionary.

Watt Powell staged the only real feature when he stole home in the first inning. He was on third with Curtis at bat. Test stood with the ball in his hand as he interpreted the signal flashed by Johnson and when he started to wind up, Watt dashed home. The big twirler did his best to get the ball over, but he threw wildly and Powell counted. It was a brilliant piece of subterfuge on Watt's part and it was the only bright and shining spot in which the locals figured.

Portsmouth had its regular team in the field for the first time since Non-Clark's was laid up with an injured foot hobbled around short and Bush's wrenched back was well enough to allow him to take part in the game. PRACTICAL LESSONS WHICH WILL BENEFIT HEALTH - ROUND SHOULDERS AND HOW TO STRAIGHTEN THEM.

Proper Home Exercise Will Often Straighten and Strengthen the Backs of Little Children

By DR. R. KENDRICK SMITH

SECOND POSITION -

Most American children are round shouldered. It is amazing to see the way the shoulder blades stick out on most school children. This is caused by improper clothing, particularly the ordinary waist, the straps of which pull the points of the shoulders forward and are dragged down by tight side garters. Sitting too long at school desks is also another cause. The illustration with this article shows the ordinary broad stroke of the old-fashioned swimming. If this is done persistently ten minutes twice a day by little children it will tend to prevent round shoulders and other postural defects of the spine.

Immediate Treatment.

The public thinks of spinal curvature as an obvious deformity which can be seen across the street. This is the condition which results from neglect of these cases in the early stages. Any deviation from the perfect perpendicular constitutes spinal curvature and should be detected in its incipient stages in order that treatment may be instituted immediately. Treatment correctly administered in the first stages prevents the gross deformity and accomplishes the result in a comparatively short time, whereas it is impossible entirely to correct a curve after it becomes extensive, and a much longer period of time to obtain any benefit, and the procedure becomes much more burdensome and severe for the patient.

The treatment of curvature seems logically to fall into the province of the osteopath, as this is particularly the work of the physician who confines themselves largely to the consideration of things from the spinal standpoint. Consequently, without denying or discarding any of the unquestioned facts in the orthopedic method of dealing with these conditions, osteopathy more importance in the case of girls than in that of boys, and the procedure becomes much more burdensome and severe for the patient.

Consequently, without denying or discarding any of the unquestioned facts in the orthopedic method of dealing with these conditions, osteopathy more importance in the case of girls than in that of boys, and the procedure becomes much more burdensome and severe for the patient.

Parents should devote more care to their own examination of their children. They should never draw conclusions from the appearance of the child with its clothing, and should examine it occasionally in undressed facts in the orthopedic method of dealing with these conditions, osteopathy more importance in the case of girls than in that of boys, and the procedure becomes much more burdensome and severe for the patient.

Another simple test is to have the child bend over and touch the floor with his head. If the spine is curved, the head will not touch the floor, and the child will be unable to stand straight. This is a simple test, and one which can be made at home. The first symptoms usually noticed by parents, and sometimes first seen by the dressmaker, are a difference in the height of the shoulders or of the prominence of one of the hips. Whenever either of these symptoms exists the child should be taken to an osteopath for an immediate examination.

Brilliant Results.

One reason why osteopathy produces more brilliant results in the treatment of curvature than the older methods is that in many cases the osteopath finds a definite cause in addition to the classical ones known by the medical world. The bones being essentially a column of separate bones piled one on the other, it is easy for the layman to realize, from his experience with children's building blocks, that the slightest disturbance of position in any of the lower bones may produce an amazing degree of distortion or even collapse in the upper part of the column. Following this reasoning, the osteopath treats the lower bones first, and corrects the curvature of the spine by correcting the lower bones. This is a simple test, and one which can be made at home. The first symptoms usually noticed by parents, and sometimes first seen by the dressmaker, are a difference in the height of the shoulders or of the prominence of one of the hips. Whenever either of these symptoms exists the child should be taken to an osteopath for an immediate examination.

JITNEY BUS GETS ATTENTION OF CITY COUNCIL

Protest On Flood Wall Extension

REGULATIONS OF PROPOSED JITNEY BUS ORDINANCE

$80 License.
Identification of Owner.
Deposit of $5,000 Bond.
Penalty for violation $100 fine and revocation of license.
Operate on fixed Route.
Fare Limit 5 Cents.
Driver not allowed to indulge in tobacco or intoxicating liquors while on duty.
Passengers must occupy seats.

Promoters of the ordinance to regulate the so-called "jitney" bus traffic and make the jitney a responsible common carrier officially launched their campaign before city council Wednesday night and practically had everything their own way as far as presenting their views and arguments was concerned. James Starlin and other "jitney" operators were present but they voiced no opposition.

Council itself regarded the matter of sufficient importance to refer the petition and ordinance to the committee on police, fire and markets together with the solicitor for a report. This committee is to meet with a committee of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, Division No. 455, if necessary to iron out some of the details that conflict with the general code in fixing the duties of council as a legislative body.

Member Shump was the first councilman to express his views on the subject after the street carmen and their representatives had submitted their arguments for the adoption of the ordinance. He said no one more appreciated what the street railway does and has done towards upbuilding the city. It has not only covered the city thoroughly but is reaching out into the suburbs. He appreciated, he said, the attitude of the street car employees, it was a natural position for them to assume; no one wants to see wage earners lose their position but the fact must not be overlooked that the "jitney" drivers were wage earners also and council could not be expected to view the matter exactly on the same basis as the carmen but only from the standpoint of the public. He believed there should be some reasonable regulation of the "jitney" traffic for the public in general, its good and its protection that will probably work out for the benefit of all.

Judge Osborn said a study of the ordinance showed it imposed a lot of duties on city council that were in conflict with the general code. For example, said he, the city no longer has a city clerk. Then, too, it must be remembered that council was a legislative body and some of the provisions of the ordinance ought to be passed up to the executive department, the mayor or chief of police. He believed these and other details important enough to be thoroughly threshed out and upon his motion the ordinance was referred to the above committee and solicitor.

The petition with the attached ordinance, the former bearing the signatures of Ed J. Goro and Harry L. Dixon, president and secretary respectively of the street car men's union, were presented formally by Mr. Gulkar. The petition was referred to the committee on ordinances.

Jitney Ordinance Given Reading

A goodly portion of the carmen's union occupied seats in the lobby, all of them sitting patiently throughout the shuffling of routine before council before the subject in which they were interested could be brought up again under the head of "Introduction of Ordinances." President W. E. Cook had called for new ordinances and not a word was heard. The chair called for second reading of ordinances, then Mr. Gulkar raised the point that an ordinance was attached to the carmen's petition and that it might be well to have it read. This was agreed and the ordinance was read by Clerk Gableman.

President Cook announced that council would allow persons in the audience to speak on the subject, limiting each speaker to ten minutes.

Judge Noah J. Dever, who said he represented the petitioners, was the first to take the floor. He said he would try to keep within the limit, but was assured by Mr. Osborn and the chair as well that he could take all the time he desired. He stated that he was there solely in the interest of the workmen though he would necessarily be obliged to go into much that refers to the street railway on whose revenues and support these men are dependent.

He said he had prepared some statistics as to the burdens placed on the street railway company which has a franchise and is under strict regulation. When conditions become such that it no longer pays to run cars then companies simply take them off and discharge their men but when a man is laid off his expenses don't stop, he has the same number of children to feed and bare backs to clothe—he cannot go down to the river and drown there—and so it will be seen that this becomes a vital thing with him.

Carries City Employees Free

The judge said the street railway company carried gratis on its cars, all of the police, firemen and water works employees. If they received pay for these it would amount to $1400 per annum for the first two and $511 for the latter, almost $2,000 which the company gives to the city.

On the subject of taxes he said that the Belt and Third street lines are still operated under the old franchise and a percentage of the gross earnings has to be turned into the city. In 1911 this amount was $1,079.78; in 1912 it was $859 and in 1914 it was $325, decreasing because it was approaching the new franchise. In general taxes the company paid in last year $16,969 and at the rate of taxation will pay this year $18,500.

Footage up all expenses that the company pays out in a way that it comes back to the city it costs the company $35 per year for each seat in cars operated. Under the new franchise the company is required to maintain in repair the devil's strip or 18 ft. of a 36 ft. street width—half of the street. All these have to be met and discharged by the company before the men can be paid. The company maintains a regular schedule, which on its main line is from 3:37 a. m. until 1:37 a. m. or 22 hours; Sciotoville line 4:50 to 1 a. m.; Hilltop line, 5:00 a. m. to 12:20 a. m.; Third street line 5:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Contrasts Cars With Jitneys

He contrasted the unregulated jitney, which he said has no regular hours, no specified route or schedule, no accommodations whatever, but which, if regulated and made a part of the organic law of the city could be counted on the same as the street car company, and the public could rely on it.

The speaker told of his observations of the regulation of the jitney traffic in El Paso, Texas, and other Western cities, and read an extract of an article from the Literary Digest telling of the benefits of electric railways necessary to civic development and advocating that jitneys should assume the obligations of common carriers. He said that jitneys were assessed at the same rate it costs the Portsmouth street railway company to operate, $35 per seat, it would mean $140, so that the $80 license fixed by the ordinance is very much less and more favorable to the jitney traffic than generally done over the country at large.

Thinks Council Should Act

He said the time has come for city council to take action and regulate these irregular common carriers. Gas companies and all other public service agencies are under regulation, even peddlers are required to pay high licenses, and it is but right that the home merchant, who helps build up a town, should have the cream of his business and not have it taken away by some itinerant who pays no taxes.

People who assume none of the burdens of a city ought to pay moderately for the use of its streets. He insisted that the matter of maintaining a schedule was important.

Thinks Owners Should Be Bonded

The matter of requiring a bond from jitney men might be a hardship, but it is one of the things they ought to bear so as to be responsible to people they may injure. Persons hurt by a street car can sue on execution and sell the whole line. He said that outsiders were even coming into Portsmouth and embarking in the city business, rather than pay the licenses required of them in their home cities. This was demoralizing to regularly organized business. The men he represented feel this keenly, he said.

The revenues of the street railway company have fallen off so since the introduction of jitneys that if it continues at the same rate it will be necessary to lay off a good many men and get the schedules modified so that not as many cars will have to be operated. This will mean that this enterprising community will be taking a backward step. He said that the street railway company is paying half of $110,000 for the paving of Gallia pike, and yet the free jitneys are using not only that half, but the rest of the street, and he believed unjustly.

The judge concluded as follows:

"Weas taxpayers, who helped establish the city, its water works, etc.,—now I'm talking not as a representative of these men, but only as a citizen—have a right to feel that these jitney operators should bear a small portion of this burden."

Not Aimed At Taxis

William Abrahams, district organizer of the American Federation of Labor, was the next speaker. He said, in answer to a query from Mr. Moeller, that the new ordinance was not aimed at taxi-cabs or any other vehicles, save jitneys. He also wished to correct any impression that might be gained that the carmen were seeking to drive the jitneys out of business. He said they simply wanted them regulated for the protection of the general public. He said many of the jitney drivers were irresponsible people, whom in case of injury no redress could be gained, while the street car employees were practical and experienced men, with the backing of their company. He said Youngstown fixed a jitney license at $80 and Ashtabula $100, besides requiring $15,000 bonds. The jitney people resisted this going into the courts, but the supreme courts have upheld the councils of these cities, and under license system the accidents had been cut down 25 per cent and of late reduced to 18 per cent, it having the effect of making drivers careful. He said the carmen were waging a campaign for jitney regulation throughout Ohio.

Gives Some Interesting Statistics

Ellsworth E. Hise, the newly-elected president of Central Labor Council, while making no pretense as orator, made one of the best talks of the evening. He presented some interesting statistics overlooked by the attorney. He said that the Gallia pike paving and double-tracking cost the street railway company $60,981.50, and the New Boston paving cost it $35,568. The lighting of the city buildings and water works, which is furnished gratis to the city, costs the company $100 per month. He cited an instance of a child getting hurt by a jitney and the driver continuing on his way without stopping to learn the extent of the child's injuries, and related about a girl being assaulted in a jitney a few nights ago. He told how street car crews would have acted under such circumstances, in rendering first aid, summoning help, and seeing that the victims were properly cared for. He said he felt that their organization had been a help to themselves and to the company as well. They were all straight and sober men, nearly all owning their own homes, and had something at stake. They felt, he said, that it was their duty to protect their interests and the interests of the company are our interests.

Mr. Schunk Called Mr. Hise's Attention to Another Fact Which He Had Overlooked, Namely, That The Street Railway Company Was Furnishing Light For The Town Clock In The St. Mary's Church Tower Gratis For A Period Of Ten Years.

Protest On Flood Wall

A communication from Levi D. York, Judge J. S. Thomas, Judge A. Z. Blair, W. B. Anderson, A. M. Damarin, Mary Barton, John Book and other property owners of Jackson street, was presented by Mr. Gulkar, protesting against the proposed cut off extension, or cross-wall, of the new flood wall, north on Offshore to Third, at a cost of $5,500. They claimed it would damage their properties, and insisted on the wall stopping temporarily at Offshore street near the Zottmann home.

The protest was referred to the street committee and engineering department.

Legislation Passed

Rules were suspended and the following resolutions and ordinances passed: Awarding the $61,500 street line improvement bonds to Spangenberg & Mager, of Cincinnati, at $72; approving plans and specifications for ways and walks in the new addition of Greenlawn cemetery; appropriating $674 for water service on Kendall avenue; $1106 for water service on Mahert Road; $1762.98 for an 8-inch main on Mahert Road; $276 for a sanitary sewer in the first alley west of Oakland avenue, from Kinney Lane to Eighteenth street; $400 for a sanitary sewer from Seavey to Eighteenth and Eighteenth streets and Oakland avenue to Offshore street; ordinance to proceed with the paving of Chillicothe road from Grant street to Seventeenth street, and appropriating $1,063.98 as the city's proportion; to proceed with the improvement of Armstrong Place from the north line of Gallia street to the south line of the second alley north; to proceed with the paving of Linden avenue from the north side of Gallia to the south line of the second alley north.

Many Petitions Are Received

The schedule, amounting to $206.83, was allowed. Petitions of Walter Smith and others for better Franklin and Grandview and Grant streets, relief from sidewalk overflows on Spring street; impassable condition of Tenth street from Chillicothe to Findlay during rainy periods; need of changing grade in alley at rear of John Grunwald, Jos. Talmay and Albert Burkhardt properties in the West End; need of drainage in gutter along Fourth street and at the intersection with Madison street; a petition for a storm sewer at Mound and High streets; and a complaint of Richard Ferguson about faulty drainage in front of his property on Thirteenth street, were referred to the service department.

A petition from E. J. Page and others for a street light at Eighteenth street and Timmonds avenue was referred to the light committee.

Needs Horse And Hoses

Director Linck, of the public safety department, asked for an appropriation of $500 for 500 feet of fire hose and $500 for the purchase of two horses needed to replace disabled ones in the fire department. Referred to the fire committee for investigation.

Chairman Schunk, of the law and claims committee, reported that the committee would shortly take up for adjustment all matters submitted to it.

Chairman Gulkar, of the street committee, reported all property rights on Mahert Road adjusted, and notices being served preliminarily to its improvement. Upon his motion the matter of a sewer at the Garfield school building was referred to the service department and engineer.

City Solicitor Stanley McCall was the only absentee, he still suffering from a recent sick spell. Previous to the opening of the meeting Clerk Gableman tagged all of the members and they responded liberally to the call for Loyalty Day.

FLOOD WALL DISCUSSED; C. & O. WANTS DRIVEWAY WIDER; PLAN FOR POINT

City council after disposing of its routine and regular business, Wednesday evening, went into executive session to consider some matters pertaining to the city flood defense system.

J. A. Grimes, the C. & O. agent of this city and C. W. Johns, of Richmond, Va., engineer of the C. & O. maintenance of way department, appeared before council relative to having the Chillicothe street flood wall driveway made wider than originally provided for by City Engineer George S. Wilhelm so that in the event of high water coming to a level of the wall no trouble will be experienced by the C. & O. ferryboat in landing and discharging the big four horse transfer wagons.

Much trouble, it was pointed out, is experienced in this respect at the Market and Court street driveways, during high water times. The officials stated, however, that there was no prospect of the C. & O. changing its ferry landing to foot of Chillicothe street in the immediate future. The widening of the drive way if anything will reduce its cost.

A committee of the civic bodies of the city also brought up the proposed restoration of the flood wall at the Scioto Point. There was some difference of opinion whether to make a permanent wall down to bed rock or 80 feet high and reclaim back fill that would forever insure the point against wash out from the river but at a big cost or to provide a temporary defense at a considerably reduced cost and take chances on floods or convert the extreme point into a public park by buying up all property there and running a wall on the east side of Scioto street or in the first alley east and it was decided to visit the scene within the next few days. The question of providing a wider approach to the new permanent bridge will be considered in the general plan to be adopted. Pending the inspection visits no formal action was taken by council.

Sensors Wallop Tigers

The Senators tied the Tiger Juniors for second place by shutting them out 20 to 0. Chabot who has been pitching winning ball for the Tigers issued twelve passes, which mixed with six costly errors and five clean hits netted the Senators eighteen runs in the first five innings. Smith replaced him and pitched good ball. B. Stuten for the Senators pitched classy ball, the Tigers never threatened to score in but one inning, and but one man reached third base. F. Smith and Stuten proved the batting stars. The score by innings: Tigers 00000000—0 4 6 Senators 42075110x—20 9 0 Batteries—Chabot, Smith, and Anderson; B. Stuten and Weber. Another Victory For Pirates The Pirates increased their lead by defeating the Braves while the Tiger Juniors lost to the Senators. The game was closely contested as the Braves put up a good game behind Lefty Haag. The Pirates got a big lead in the opening rounds due to the wildness of Haag, who finished the game pitching steady ball. With the score 7 to 4 and two men on, Wilson drove out a homer tying it up. Gilmore who had been pitching was relieved by Wallace, who allowed him to be bunched in but one inning. The score by innings: Braves 200230100—8 13 1 Pirates 42102110x—11 1 2 Batteries—R. Haag, and Mauley, W. Haag; Gilmore, Wallace and Smith.

Federals Climb Out Of Cellar.

When the Federals won from the Red Sox they came out of the cellar for the first time this year. The Red Sox hammered York hard in the opening innings and he was relieved by Hudson. In the fifth the Federals enjoyed a big rally off Ribble, the feature being a triple by George with two on. With their opponents' three runs to the good the Red Sox tied it up due to Hudson's wildness. The Federals came back and put two more over which was enough to win as both pitchers settled down. York, and George secured three hits, while Ribble scored three. The score:

MRS. PANKHURST LEADS WOMEN DEMANDING WORK ON MUNITIONS

Mrs. Pankhurst (second from left) leading big parade.

Despite a drizzling rain enormous crowds of women thronged Victoria Embankment, London, to participate in the women's procession voicing the demand that the British government utilize women in the work of making ammunition and in replacing the men. It is estimated that 50,000 women were in the procession, which was led by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. With the paraders were also a number of titled women, including Lady Coleridge and Lady Knollys.

Gasoline Explodes; Burns A Foreigner

Pete Lonchi, foreigner, 35, single, laborer for Rinehart and Dennis, C. & O. Northern grade contractors, four miles from Sciotoville, was seriously burned about the chest, head, face and hands at 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning, when gasoline exploded. A torch hanging on a post fell down just as the laborer was passing with a lighted lantern. The gasoline leaked from the torch and ignited from the lantern. His clothes caught fire and were almost burned from him before fellow employees reached his side. Dr. J. F. York, company physician from Sciotoville was immediately called and dressed the burns and later moved the man to Hempstead Hospital. He is unable to talk, but will recover.

Bids Are Rejected

Bids received by Messrs. J. P. Purdum and H. F. Thompson, receivers for the East End Furniture company, have been rejected as too low. Charles Cox bid $3,165 on the accounts alone. Brand and Lawson bid $2,500 on the stock, $1000 on the accounts and $2200 on the real estate, consisting of a warehouse on Gallia street.

Mr. Thompson one of the receivers stated Thursday that an effort would be made to sell the stock at private sale.

IS FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT & BATTERY; ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

A jury in common pleas court Thursday afternoon adjudged Elmwood Lindsay, a West Side farmer, guilty of assault and battery, after an hour's deliberation. He was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to kill, growing out of an alleged assault upon Conrad Evans, at a West Side dance on the evening of July 5th.

Lindsay's attorney, Theodore K. Funk, filed a motion for a new trial and it will be heard Friday morning. In the meantime sentence will be reserved and Lindsay will enjoy his liberty on bond.

MUST FACE FORGERY CHARGE

Sheriff E. W. Smith left Tuesday for Sioux Falls, South Dakota, to take into custody Cairner Bodenhamer, wanted in this county on a charge of forgery. Bodenhamer has completed a sentence in a South Dakota prison on a similar charge, and is now being held awaiting the arrival of the local officer.

Bodenhamer, it is alleged, is a native of Indiana, and came to this city last March and represented himself as his brother to officials of the First National bank, where his brother had money on deposit. Upon his misrepresentation he was allowed to draw out his brother's money, the authorities claim.

Divorce Suit Filed By Willard Gustin

Failure to provide and desertion are alleged in the divorce petition of Myrtle Bridges, wife of Walter McFarland Bridges, which was filed in common pleas court Thursday morning by Attorney D. W. Gustin. She claims that they were married on July 22, 1910, from which date her husband failed to provide for her, she says, and finally deserted her on September 4, 1913. She says that in April last her husband's address was Denver, Colorado. The couple have no children.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LOYALTY

This, friends, is "Loyalty Day!"

The day when the progressive citizens of Portsmouth will show their loyalty to the local team of the Ohio State League.

Everybody who can possibly "knock off" work for the afternoon will be at Millbrook park this afternoon to witness the game between Portsmouth and Mayville.

The club owners are $1900 behind the season. The fans were quick to come to their assistance in a substantial manner, and so "Loyalty Day" was suggested.

750 loyalty tags have already been sold. And many more will be disposed of before the game starts.

And there will be many fans at the game whose loyalty cannot be questioned, but who can't possibly part with a dollar. But they will gladly give up the regular price of admission, 25 cents.

For don't overlook the fact that the regular schedule of prices will prevail at this afternoon's game.

The River City Band will play.

The retail stores will all close at 2:30 o'clock. So will the barber shops, the banks and building and loan associations.

The Selby Shoe Co. and the Excelsior Shoe company will close down at noon in order to give the owners and their employees a chance to attend the game.

If you haven't been tagged, see one of the members of the committee.

If you can't afford a tag, buy a general admission ticket at the Play House, where you secure a reserved seat.

The game starts at 3:30 o'clock.

Hancock will pitch for Portsmouth and McGraynor for Mayville.

By all means, go out to Millbrook this afternoon—put in your mite and enthusiasm to make Loyalty Day one huge success.

GERMANY IS WILLING TO PAY FOR WM. FRYE

Washington, August 5.—The controversy between the United States and Germany over the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye still remained unsettled with the publication today of the latest German note again justifying the German course and reiterating a willingness to make a reparation for the ship.

Replying to the last American representation, Germany, in justification of the sinking of the Frye, adheres to her previous claim that it was not in contravention of the Prussian-American treaty or international law. The whole controversy hinges on Article Thirteen of that treaty, the American contention being that it specifically protects the Frye from being sunk, although not protecting a contraband cargo. Germany, on the other hand, contends that the article only obligates her to pay damages.

In again offering to pay for the ship, Germany accepts the American proposal that the amount of damages to be fixed by two experts, one to be selected by each country and pledges prompt payment with the stipulation, however, that it shall not be regarded as payment for violation of American rights. Should that method be unsatisfactory, the United States is invited to arbitration at The Hague. It is considered that the commission method will be satisfactory to the United States, provided, however, that no treaty rights are waived. Should the United States allow the controversy to go to The Hague for interpretation of the treaty provision or continues to discuss the issue through diplomatic channels, it is virtually certain that it will insist that meanwhile Germany refrain from violation of what the United States contends are its rights.

May Change Rates Of Coal Shipments

Columbus, August 5.—The entire question of changing rates on coal even in traffic within the state properly belongs to the Interstate Commerce Commission and should be left to that body by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission according to arguments which railroad companies were ready to present to the commission here today when the hearing on miners' complaints against coal rates was opened. The attitude of the railways as explained during the legislature several months ago when a measure was being considered to reduce freight rates within the state, is that the whole schedule of coal rates in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and India would be disarranged by a revision of Ohio rates. It was expected counsel for the railroads might urge this as basis for asking that the case be dismissed by the Ohio Utilities Commission.

Praises German Influence In U. S.

San Francisco, August 5.—German influence in America for freedom, education, religion, culture and good citizenship was proclaimed second to none, in an address here today by Dr. C. J. Hexamer, of Philadelphia, president of the National German American Alliance. Dr. Hexamer was the principal speaker at "German Day" at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. "What Greece was to Rome," he said, "that Germany in the widest sense is to our beloved land, only with the further distinction and advantage in our favor that the Greek brought to Rome with his culture disgusting sensual vices, while the German, with his culture brings to his new home sturdy integrity and a pure and happy family life."

German Day, at the exposition was set for early August, he explained, in commemoration of manifestos issued in Philadelphia August 1, 1775, by German churches and societies declaring the independence, invited history to show that the battle of Long Island, the "Thermopylae of the American revolution," Pennsylvania riflemen under the German commander, John Peter Kitchener, saved the American army.

EDICTS SHOW DECISION TO EVACUATE WARSAW

Warsaw, July 22.—(By mail to Petrograd and London, August 4) The hurried measures adopted for the evacuation of this city are shown in a number of official orders which have appeared. These edicts direct the removal of the University of Warsaw to Moscow and the discontinuance of the administration of justice before the high courts after July 24. Another states that all horses, automobiles and other means of transportation not removed to the right bank of the Vistula before July 13 will be subject to the requisition of the government thereafter. The order directs the faculty of the university to leave today and says that if it is impossible for them to return the courses will be continued at Moscow university, a famous educational institution.

A guardian is appointed for the law buildings pending this suspension which lasts "until further notice." Plans have been pushed for the organization of the male population for the military work such as transportation, the building of roads and the digging of trenches. These plans provide that each 1,000 shall be under the direction of a "head man" with a centurion for each 100. The "head men" and centurion will receive $1.22 a day, while each worker will receive fifty cents a day and his board. The trade organization of civilians will be turned over to the military authorities as competent units.

REVIEWS TESTIMONY OF EASTLAND PROBE

Chicago, August 5.—A review of the testimony given and a consideration of responsibility for the disaster were announced today as the program for the county grand jury which is investigating the capsizing of the steamship Eastland July 24th. Although this body has practically completed the taking of evidence it is not believed that any indictments will be returned before the end of the week or the early part of next week.

Manslaughter and criminal carelessness in the handling of a steamship are charges on which State's Attorney Hoyne said he contemplated drawing indictments. Secretary of Commerce Redfield did not complete his inquiry yesterday because George Uhler, supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service spent the day before county judge. Mr. Redfield announced that he would hear Mr. Uhler today.

Labor leaders were prepared today to make plans for an investigation of the disaster.

WILSON'S MEXICAN PLANS TO BE KNOWN TODAY

Washington, August 5.—President Wilson's plan for bringing peace in Mexico will be unfolded today by Secretary of State Lansing to the diplomatic representatives of six Latin American republics who have been asked to co-operate in efforts to end the revolutionary struggle in the Southern republic.

The next appeal, it is understood, will be final and if any faction refuses, an arms embargo will follow against that faction. The president's plan is also said to include immediate steps to open up the railroad between Vera Cruz and Mexico City for the transportation of food supplies to the starving people of the capital. Failure of the Mexican leaders to keep open the road, it was said, might result in joint military steps by the United States and the Latin American nations to that end. Participants in the day's conference with Secretary Lansing included Argentina, Brazil and Chile and the three ranking ministers of the republics namely those of Bolivia, Uruguay, and Guatemala and Paul Fuller, a confidential adviser to President Wilson on Mexican affairs.

The despatch of a battery of field artillery from Fort Silliman, Oklahoma, to El Paso, has aroused considerable comment here. Officials, however, attached little importance to the incident, saying it was desired to have the border well guarded in view of the recent uprisings.

Official advice concerning the reported bombardment of the Mexican border town of Nogales were lacking early today.

ERIE RECOVERS FROM DISASTER

Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—Working in relays under a scorching sun, firemen and volunteers today continued their search in the masses of wreckage piled along Mill creek by Tuesday night's freshet for the bodies still believed to be in the debris. Some headway was made during the night and anxious crowds removed from temporary morgue to temporary morgue every time the report was spread that another body had been recovered. There still remain, however, great piles of ruins that have not been explored and friends of the many missing persons shudder when they think of what these unsightly heaps may hold.

One body was recovered during the night, that of a foreigner, although there were many reports of other finds to disappoint the weary watchers along the ravine. The body was taken to Coroner Hanley's morgue to which place the others had been removed and it was then seen that twenty victims of the disaster had been identified, although it was known that at least 15 more had been lost.

Figures compiled by the authorities caused the belief that at least forty others were lost. The work of clearing up the city was commenced in earnest this morning. The naval militia was called out to reinforce the national guardsmen on duty guarding the stricken section and sightseers were kept away from the working gangs. These men were detailed in parties under competent foremen so that the best possible results could be obtained in the least possible time.

Mayor Stein announced that he had received offers of relief from many cities in Pennsylvania but that he thought the city would be able to take care of its own expenses. The public eating houses opened yesterday were in position to take care of many persons who had neither food nor shelter, while charitable people provided liberal supplies of clothing, those who had lost their all in the torrent.

Physicians from the Pennsylvania health department arrived here during the night, and at once took up the task of safeguarding the city from pestilence.

Estimates of the damage continue to mount as the extent of the flood becomes apparent. Where it was believed that $5,000,000 would cover the loss it was today asserted that probably $6,000,000 would be nearer the correct estimate.

GERMANY WILLING TO PAY NORWAY

London, August 5.—A Reuter dispatch from Christiania says: "Germany has informed Norway that the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Minerva was due to unfortunate circumstances which led to the commander of the submarine to believe the vessel was British. Germany has expressed deep regret and a willingness to pay damages."

The Minerva was sunk late in May while on her way from Shields to Christiania. The crew was landed at New Castle, England.

WILL DISCUSS EUGENICS

San Francisco, August 5.—"Eugenics and War" by David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford University, and many other addresses were on the program for today's session of the National Convention for Race Betterment in session here. There are too many frills in the public schools and not enough in instruction along practical lines, according to a paper read to the conference by Dr. Dixon, of Pennsylvania University. "The curriculum now used by our educators," Dr. Dixon says, "demands radical alteration. We are teaching much theory and not enough of the practical, every day occupations."

William Egbert, a railroad engineer of Columbus, motored down from Columbus, Tuesday, and will spend several days as guest of his brother, John Egbert, of this city.

FLASHES FROM THE REAL CENTERS OF SPORT

"LOYALTY TAGS" WILL PROBABLY REACH 1,000

At a meeting of the "Loyalty Tag" committee held at the Times office last night, a comparison of notes showed that upwards of 750 tags had been disposed of and the outlook for the sale of the coveted note, 1000, was most flattering indeed.

However, the mere fact of the sale of tags was not the climax toward which the committee was working. The sale of tickets, of course, meant the raising of a nice sum of money for the club owners, who are behind this season in dollars and cents. The committee had the raising of money in view, because maximum must be looked upon as the condition of war. And yet, the raising of the old fan spirit was one of the main objects in view and it looks as though that had been accomplished. On every hand people stated they would be at the game or break a leg in the effort to get there. The larger the crowd the more the enthusiasm and the larger the receipts. There is no question but today will be the biggest day of the season at Mill break right, baseballically speaking. Massive right now that you will be one of the throng. Go out to the park! It is not necessary that you buy a loyalty tag although that action is highly commendatory. The regular prices of admission will prevail, and you will be just as welcome by purchasing a bleacher ticket, 25 cents, as though you entered via a loyalty tag. Be out there soon at 2:30, for the game between Portsmouth and Mayville will start exactly at that time. Everybody is going, so don't be a laggard.

Excelsior Shoe Co. Decided To Close For "Loyalty Day"

Coming across with the purchase of 50 Loyalty Day tickets was not going to be enough for the Excelsior Shoe Co. The directors, who are always ready to do a turn that will help Portsmouth, decided last evening to close down the big plant at noon today and give the big army of employees a chance to attend the game this afternoon between Portsmouth and Mayville at Millbrook Park. That was one of the best pieces of news received by the committee and will insure several hundred more fans at the game. The Excelsior Co. will also close and all in all today will go down in history as one of the really big baseball days of the Peerless City. Hurrah for the shoe workers and their shoe manufacturers.

DR TEST BUYS 10 TAGS

So delightfully pleased was Dr. A. E. Test over the work of his adopted son, Pitcher Hubert Test, who held Charleston in three hits yesterday, giving Portsmouth a 4 to 2 victory, that he hurried up Dan Thomas one of the members of the committee last night and purchased ten loyalty tags and had them reserved for today's game at Millbrook park, between Portsmouth and Mayville. He will take a party of ten fans to the game. Dr. Test is one of the most intelligent fans in the city and rarely misses a game here.

He should be mighty proud of his adopted son. The young chap has won thirteen out of the last fourteen games, a record that has never been equaled in any league. The student twirler has developed a new delivery, shooting the ball from a great height. While wild at times, nevertheless he has the necessary confidence and is showing better form every time out. His future more brilliant indeed and with a little more experience he will become one of the greatest pitchers in the country. He has the physique and the strength and is bound to go up.

BASEBALL

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 5. AFTER a terrific bombardment which lasted nine full innings, Portsmouth put a serious crimp in the Senator's winning streak yesterday, and, after the smoke of battle cleared away, the visitors had a firm hold on the long end of a 4 to 3 score. Mr. Simms, our well known twirler, recently collected by St. Louis was in a generous mood and allowed the invaders twelve healthy swats and these can be used as twelve separate and distinct reasons why Mr. Chilton's sterling athletes did not win the game.

But Mr. Test was the principal cause of the downfall of our heroes. This elongated twirler had the home folks eating out of his hand and they rolled over and played dead every time he desired it. He had our gang of fence busters emulating heavy hitters from the Old Ladies Home in the throes of a batting slump. During the matinee he allowed but three hits, two arriving in the first and the other in the fifth. Those two swats in the opening chapter netted three runs and after that Mr. Test successfully used his influence to prevent anyone from wandering across the home plate.

It was only a perfunctory performance put up by our gang of hired men, while Portsmouth went into the game to win—and got away with it. To make up for the shortage of runs and hits, Charleston accumulated five perfectly good errors which really lost the game. However, we will not give excuses, and the only place to find the nib for our defeat is in Mr. Webster's dictionary.

Watt Powell staged the only real feature when he stole home in the first inning. He was on third with Curtis at bat. Test stood with the ball in his hand as he interpreted the signal flashed by Johnson and when he started to wind up, Watt dashed home. The big twirler did his best to get the ball over, but he threw wildly and Powell counted. It was a brilliant piece of subterfuge on Watt's part and it was the only bright and shining spot in which the locals figured.

Portsmouth had his regular team in the field for the first time since Monday. Caton, who was laid up with an injured foot, bubbled around short and Bush's strangled back was well enough to allow him to take part in the pastime. Caton only had two chances, one of which he booted, but Bush pitched a sensational game at second, cutting off several swats that looked like sure hits. There were few dependent fans who left the park because few people were present at the game. It was the smallest crowd that attended a ball game this year, and that's going some.

A stranger in our midst would imagine that Charleston had a strangle hold on last place instead of being league leaders, judging from the support the town is giving the team. President Chilton is thinking seriously of giving the stadium a new coat of paint, and is in an effort to get a crowd out to Exhibition Park.

For the benefit of those who did not see the game, this is what happened: Charleston took the lead right off the jump and pushed three runs across the bat before the enemy realized what had happened. Nutter drew a pass and went to third on Billy Beer's single over second. Watt Powell pushed a safety past Dillhoefer while the third baseman was busy worrying Nutter. Nutter scored and Beers went to third. Corbin skied to Sharman and Daubert's long sacrifice fly to left counted Beers. Powell tearing around to third on the throw in. The sun was pretty hot at that place, however, and Watt stole home and sought refuge in the coop while Curtis stopped a twister with his back and Troutman allowed three delightful strikes to be called on him.

Sims got into trouble from the start. Dillhoefer single and scored on Dills' double to left. Sharman hit to Daubert and Jake got Dills to hit. On Monday, McHenry pushed a single into left. Nutter can make the best errors ever seen on the local lot. He quickly recovered from his blunder, however, and forced McHenry at second. Bush tore off a hot single, but he and Spencer perish on the cushions when Mr. Test struck out. We will pause long enough to admit that Test is a pitcher, not a batter.

The bombardment continued in the third when Dills and Johnson got singles, but were unable to score. In the fourth Spencer stepped into the first ball pitched and lifted it over the fence. He then made a personally conducted tour of the bases and the plaudits of the multitude. Corbin saved at least one run in the fifth when he made sensational catches of healthy swats by Dillhoefer and Dills. On the first he ran back to the fence and on the other he got the ball in short right field after a hard run. Sharman doubled to center after this and would have cleared the bases but for the work of Corbin.

In the meantime the local crowd did everything but score runs and hit the ball safely. It looked like a sure score in the fifth when Sims got to first on Caton's error and scampered to second when Nutter beat out a bunt. With two on base, none out and the heavy end of the batting list up, the meagre crowd of loyal fans sharpened their pencils to put down some facts, but Beers forced Sims at third, Powell skied to Dills and Corbin ended the agony by grounding to Bush.

Portsmouth won the game in the seventh. Dills, the first man up knocked the ball out of the lot and was not molested as he trotted over the runways. Sharman singled and went to second on Johnson's error. Caton was easily disposed of and Mr. Sharman ended the faning by falling asleep off second where he was put out by Mr. Daubert, assisted by Mrs. Beers.

The eighth inning should not be overlooked because it is the only one in which Portsmouth failed to get a hit. At that time, almost put a run over and it was a little luck that prevented it. McHenry hit to Daubert and Jake went to a family sleep. He hurled the ball in first in time to get the runner, but Hudson muffed it. McHenry stole second and Spencer fled to Corbin. Bush hit one of Sims' headers right on the nose and sent it on a line to Curtis, who caught it without moving from his tracks. A couple of feet either way would have made it a nice two bagger and scored McHenry.

Charleston tried to stage a batting rally in the ninth, but as they could get no hits, they called it off and went home to rest up for the game with Lexington today. The score:

PRACTICAL LESSONS WHICH WILL BENEFIT HEALTH

ROUND SHOULDERS AND HOW TO STRAIGHTEN THEM.

Proper Home Exercise Will Often Straighten and Strengthen the Backs of Little Children

By DR. R. KENDRICK SMITH

MOST American city children are round shouldered. It is amazing to see the way the shoulders stick out on the most school children. This is caused by improper clothing, particularly the ordinary pull the points shoulder straps forward and are dragged down by tight side garters. Sitting too long at school desks is also another cause of round shoulders. The illustrations with this article show the ordinary round shoulders of the old-fashioned swimming. If this is done persistently ten minutes twice a day by little children it will tend to prevent round shoulders and other postural defects of the spine.

Immediate Treatment. The public thinks of spinal curvature as an obvious deformity which can be seen across the street. This is the condition which results from neglect of these cases in the early stages. Any deviation from the perfect perpendicular constitutes a spinal curvature and should be detected in its incipency in order that treatment may be instituted immediately. Treatment correctly administered in the first stages prevents the result in a comparatively short time, whereas it is impossible entirely to correct a curve after it becomes extensive, and is much longer period of time to obtain any benefit, and the procedure becomes much more burdensome and severe for the patient.

The treatment of curvature seems logically to fall into the province of the osteopath, as this is particularly the work of the osteopath. IN THE RIGHT WAY

In a commendable spirit and action the county commissioners and the management of the street railroad have gotten together and traction tracks will be laid over the new bridge across the Scioto. Thereby proper and prudent provision is made for a development that will come, possibly, much sooner than is expected, a traction service to the west side. This service will quicken the up-building of a suburb that is already of consequence than most citizens realize, as a considerable number, who work in the city, have their homes about Union Mills.

The laying of the track will more distinctly than ever emphasize the mistake that was made in building two so-called tow-paths across the Scioto bottom, with both far below the high water line, instead of one with a "Y" at the west end, well up to that line. This latter would not only have saved a large sum in construction, but it would have given west side track entrance in the city at all times, except during real flood periods.

WE JOY IN JOILET

Wednesday morning papers were filled with many a story about havoc wrought by waters, ensuing from abnormal rains. They were all stories, too, in other than the journalistic. That is most of them were perfunctory exaggerations of damage and destruction. That is they all were with one bright and gleaming exception, which said exception was date-lined Joliet, Illinois. The truthful James from there didn't disdain and discard figures because they did not run scampering up into the tens of thousands, leaving an impression of millions, but he held safe to the lines of sobriety and fact, relating that a number of chickens, and a few cattle were drowned, entailing a loss of several hundred dollars. Best story of all. It doesn't confuse you and leave you disturbed over the vagueness and uncertainty of the thing you are trying to grasp in something of detail and certainty. Several hundred is altogether comprehensible. It must mean at least three and less than a thousand. "A number" is not definite and more than a few, but they are perfectly understandable. Gazing with the eye of imagination, it is easy enough to see the rushing, roaring river despoiled of a dozen or so altogether foolish appearing pullets, oblivious of the fate awaiting them, floating unchalantly on the crest, with here and there a Bossey, with strange glare in her usually calm and meek optics, making frantic effort to breast the tide. And then, knowing the price of spring chicken to the consumer, it comes so naturally and easy to figure and exclaim: "There go several hundred dollars."

Teddy is still snorting and breathing fire and brimstone over the invasion of Belgium. Here's a case where distance makes the difference between patriotism and treason. It was treason for anybody to complain of the taking of Panama from Columbia.

It is awful how a good man will eventually go wrong. Tom Edison has invented a factory whistle that can be heard twenty miles.

The New York Sun, re-actionary, says Willis, as a presidential candidate, is such a monstrous joke as to be almost a tragedy; the Wichita Eagle, owned by Victor Murdock, progressive, says Willis as a presidential candidate is not only impossible but absurd. And the fun of it is both are exactly right.

As long as that horrid Jack Arnold persists in snooping around, there seems no chance of our good young governor getting to stretch his wings as a presidential possibility, a million times remote by a trip to the Panama exposition.

The heaven is getting in its perfect work. Even in West Virginia the G. O. P. organs are beginning to show signs of rebellion, and rebellion ever precedes independence.

All we are sorry for is the heathen didn't get to raging sooner. The literary bureaus of the mayoralty candidates are but beginning to say and tell things interesting, with the primary no farther away than Tuesday.

The modern way is different. In Virginia the Dupont powder company, built a factory to employ ten thousand men. Did it wait for these men to come and build themselves homes? Not a day. It built a city, at the same time it was building a factory and when it was ready to operate there were the workmen already domiciled and waiting for the whistle to blow.

Villa has thought better of it and withdrawn his malediction of to hell with the United States. May be he has heard the dog days are at hand up here.

George Sheppard says the waterworks pumping station is located just where it should be and as it should be, and if it isn't the pesky Democrats are to blame. George is the only person that believes that—if he does believe it—and the only one with foolishness enough to say it.

There is no truth in the report of another eruption in Mount Lassen. It is only the rumble of Bryan and Roosevelt winging their way east from the Slope.

Did it ever strike you that our local rains are an unalloyed blessing, while all the trouble they make is started far away, where it doesn't seem to have any judgment?

Some people like to be contrary. At Parkersburg some citizens are opposing an amalgamation of the two telephone systems.

New York, August 5.—The eager young men and women who are about to sally forth to this theoretically palpitating metropolis for fame and fortune may be enthusiastic over the new apartment house that is to be built.

The new marble lined structure, simple in its elegance, will have for rental apartments for one or even two for the lump sum of $20,000 a year and it is within easy walking distance of the best moving picture shows in town. Prospective tenants should bring references from their pastor.

Seriously New York home life is slowly being destroyed. Only in Brooklyn and in the far end of uptown Manhattan can one secure a home with a yard and all the things that make for comfort. Most newcomers to New York take up family hotel life and when they become immoderate with the ease which it offers they rarely go in for real housekeeping and if they do it is a tiny furnished apartment.

Irvin Cobb, noted for his darning in openly displaying a wrist watch, has sent a chortle up and down Broadway by pulling a new and very picturesque metaphor, "Gosh," he said the other day in speaking of his experiences in the war zone, "I didn't have any more privacy than a goldfish."

It seems that the question about the ultimate stage of intoxication will not be shunted to one side. Lightly. It is the burning question along the White Street. Milton Bromer, a former Louisville newspaperman, only have solved the problem.

Down in a village in the moon-shine district near the feudal section of Breathitt county a man lay face up with the boiling sun beating down upon him. By him was an empty bottle.

The sheriff was called and after looking him over said: "He's drunk."

WOMAN LEAPED IN FRONT OF A C. & O. TRAIN AND IS KILLED

Cincinnati, Ky., Aug. 5.—The woman who was killed by the C. & O. train at Cincinnati, Ky., yesterday afternoon, was Mrs. Anna E. Harris, of Hampton City, Mo.

Mrs. Harris was standing in the middle of the tracks, looking at the train as it passed. She was struck by the engine and killed instantly.

The body was taken to the Killbuck mortuary where an inquest was held late in the evening by Coroner H. S. Swager, of Ashland.

The victim was forty years old. She had resided for many years in Hampton City, a section of Cincinnati.

She was known to be addicted to the drug habit, and since the enforcement of the Harrison law she has been almost frantic in her craving for drugs.

The Movies

Clara Kimball Young in "Lola"
For today and tonight, Manager Tynes announces Clara Kimball Young, one of the greatest and most popular stars in motion pictures.

This great picture story is founded upon the motto, "There is a divinity that shapes our ends, rough hew them as we may," and the truth of this saying is accurately exemplified in the unfolding of this truly marvelous picture, a picture in which Clara Kimball Young has founded a vehicle which enables her to give full vent to her unique gift of emotional character work and at the same time portray a story of extraordinary interest.

This is considered the best and strongest picture in which this great artist has appeared, and nothing but the highest praise has been heard wherever this picture has been shown.

For today, Manager Tynes announces the final reel in the Ohio Beauty Contest; this reel contains the fifty most beautiful women in Ohio, the fifty who received the greatest number of votes in the contest, which was recently held throughout the state.

These fifty beautiful women were in Columbus two weeks ago and each posed separately before a motion picture camera. The pictures were taken on the roof garden of the Hotel Southern, making a picture that is certainly worth seeing.

This "Beauty" picture will be shown in addition to the regular program today. Two Portsmouth girls are in the first fifty and you will see them in motion pictures.

Don't forget to get your ballot as you enter the theatre and then don't forget to mark your ballot with the number of your choice and deposit in the ballot box as you leave, as the six girls receiving the highest vote throughout the state will get a free trip through the West on the "Ohio Beauty Special," leaving Columbus on the evening of August 12, and be sure and give your two home girls a vote.

FLOOD WALL DISCUSSED; C. & O. WANTS DRIVEWAY WIDER; PLAN FOR POINT

City council after disposing of its routine and regular business, Wednesday evening, went into executive session to consider some matters pertaining to the city flood defense system.

D. A. Grimes, the C. & O. agent of this city and C. W. Johns, of Richmond, Va., engineer of the C. & O. maintenance of way department, appeared before council relative to having the Chillicothe street flood wall driveway made wider than originally provided for by City Engineer George S. Wilhelm so that in the event of high water coming to a level of the wall no trouble will be experienced by the C. & O. ferryboat in landing and discharging the big four horse transfer wagons. Much trouble, it was pointed out, is experienced in this respect at the Market and Court street driveways, during high water times. The officials stated, however, that there was no prospect of the C. & O. changing its ferry landing to foot of Chillicothe street in the immediate future. The widening of the drive way if anything will reduce its cost.

A committee of the civic bodies of the city also brought up the proposed restoration of the flood wall at the Scioto Point. There was some difference of opinion whether to make a permanent wall down to bed rock or 30 feet high and reclaim back fill that would forever insure the point against wash out from the river but at a big cost or to provide a temporary defense at a considerably reduced cost and take chances on floods or convert the extreme point into a public park by buying up all property there and running a wall on the east side of Scioto street or in the first alley east and it was decided to visit the scene within the next few days. The question of providing a wider approach to the new permanent bridge will be considered in the general plan to be adopted. Pending the inspection visits no formal action was taken by council.

THREE DIE IN FIRE

Delavan, Wis., August 5.—Three children were burned to death, eight cottages were destroyed and three dynamited to save others in a fire at Lake Delavan, a resort near here early today. The fire was brought under control in time to save a number of summer hotels.

The Elkhorn, Lake Geneva and Delavan fire departments hastened to the resort at the first alarm and their united efforts were needed to save the cottages and hotels that were in the path of the flames.

The bed rooms in which the children slept were cut off by flames and smoke. The financial loss was small.

Green S. Henry left Thursday over the C. & O. for Martinsville, Ind., to take a few weeks treatment at that resort for rheumatism, with which he has been afflicted for some time.

Remarkable Double Tree.
There is said to be in Kentucky a tree bearing each year a crop of walnuts and a crop of mulberries; and the curious phenomenon is accounted for by the supposition that a mulberry seed fell where a walnut lay in the ground, and the young shoots came up side by side and united their forces into one solid trunk. This supposition seems feasible from the fact that the bark of the tree is on one side that of walnut and on the other that of the mulberry.

ALLEGES CLERK STOLE HUSBAND'S AFFECTIONS; ASKS $10,000 DAMAGES

Alleged misconduct between her husband, Lou B. Smith, and Della Evans, at Ironton, and other places during the past year, is made the basis for a $10,000 alienation suit filed in the local common pleas court by Attorney J. O. Yates, of Ironton, representing Sallie J. Smith, owner of the Smith Furniture Company of Ironton. Charles and Lucy Evans, parents of Della Evans, are also named as defendants, it being alleged that they knew of the affair and profited by the money and furniture, which it is alleged was given to Della Evans by Mr. Smith.

Mrs. Smith, in her petition, states that she married Lou B. Smith seven years ago, and that she lived happily with him until about a year ago, when Della Evans came between her and her husband, she says.

She further avers that she is the owner of the Smith Furniture Company of Ironton and employed her husband as manager. On July 20th last, she claims, that her husband employed Della Evans to act as clerk in the store and that about ten days later Miss Evans started to practice her wiles to gain her husband's love. Improper relations between them followed, soon afterwards, she alleges, the truth of which she ascertained about October 1st, when she caused her discharge from employment at the store.

Prior to this time, she says, her husband had been kind, dutiful and affectionate toward her, but that after he met the Evans girl he became cruel, inattentive and neglectful of her, finally leaving her.

She further claims that her husband lavished large sums of money on Miss Evans, and a large amount of furniture, value of which aggregated several hundred dollars, and which she claims came out of the assets of the Smith Furniture Company.

The Evans family has lived in Portsmouth for years, but a little over a year ago they moved to Ironton. Recently they returned to this city.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Stephen Stewart, of Sciotoville, entertained the Main Street Kensington at her home Tuesday afternoon. The house was attractively decorated with roses and sunflowers. Eleven members sat down to a dainty repast of lemon ice, cake, chicken sandwiches and punch. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Keller.

Miss Edna Dawson, of Covington, Ky., is in the city visiting friends and relatives. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Molster, of Eighth street. Miss Dawson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawson, who formerly lived on Third street, this city.

Miss Emma Roth and Mesdames James Dawson and Henry Brunner spent Wednesday afternoon at Camp Riversdale.

Mrs. Anna Maier and children, Otto and Alice, of Fifth street, left today for a visit in Philadelphia and Atlantic City. They will visit relatives in the former city.

Keep a Memorandum.
Keep a little note book on your library shelf if you are in the habit of lending your books to your friends. Have it alphabetically arranged and every time you lend a book put down the name of the friend to whom you gave it, together with the title of the book. It is only a matter of a minute to do this, and saves lots of time and worry over trying to locate missing books.

Beginning of Vast Commerce.
Intercourse between Russia and England began in the middle of the sixteenth century by the White sea. It was a hazardous and costly voyage. The crews of two of the three ships with which Richard Chancellor made his first trip in 1553 were frozen to death. Sir Hugh Willoughby among them.

MIRACLE ONLY CAN SAVE WARSAW FROM TEUTONIC FOES

German forces which surrounded Warsaw on three sides are hammering away at the Polish capital's outer defenses and the Austro-German armies are steadily advancing on the Russ. General von Hindenburg, the military genius on the eastern firing line, was reported last week to have been joined by the kaiser, who came to take active command of the successful Teutonic army. In order to celebrate the evacuation of Warsaw, and to enter in triumph, the German kaiser has left Posen to be present when Warsaw has been evacuated by the Russians, so that she and the kaiser, according to the plans arranged, may lead the triumphant entry into the ancient Polish capital. The photograph shows one of the principal streets in Warsaw. The Church of St. Anne, seen on the right, is one of the most beautiful in the Russian city.
